Congressmen Recoil From UMT Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Most members of Congress who expressed themselves today on a presidential commission's recommendation for a military manpower policy recoiled from its central idea—universal military training for youths not drafted.

The National Security Training Commission said yesterday in a special report to President Eisenhower that UMT could be put into effect by January 1955, or earlier, operating simultaneously with the draft. The plan would require congressional approval.

The commission proposed a lottery to determine whether a youth would get six months training or be required to serve two years as a draftee.

The group said the program, while not achieving absolute equality, at least would avoid what it called the present unfair situation in which veterans are the only reservists available to be called up in a sudden war emergency.

Trainees Before Veterans

Under the proposed UMT program, the trainees would be called ahead of veterans.

The commission contended its program also might save money by permitting a reduction in the regular military forces, and might help deter war by setting up a steady program of long-term preparedness.

However, the arguments apparently made little impression on most members of Congress available in Washington for comment.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. said flatly, "I don't think the program would have much chance." He added that "Congress has already said the draft and UMT should not operate concurrently."

Rep. Short (R-Mo.), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, which would have to act on a UMT bill, declared, "I am opposed to UMT. It won't work."

Need Is Lessened

Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-N.Y.), chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee and a member of the House Armed Services Committee, commented that with the increasing emphasis on atomic weapons "the need for large numbers of men in uniform is considerably lessened."

Cole, who has supported UMT in the past, said he did not think Congress would pass it now and that he might switch his own position.

Rep. Amden (R-Ill.), the House GOP whip, said the draft and UMT cannot operate simultaneously.

Rep. Allen (R-Ill.), chairman of the key House Rules Committee, said, "I've always been against it and still am."

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) said, "I'm very much opposed to UMT," adding, "I don't think it can operate with the draft at all."

Sen. Duff (R-Pa.), however, said he is "in complete accord" with the commission report. He said it "imposes an obligation upon all citizens of military age, it distributes the burden in a fair way" and makes possible an effective reserve without the expense of big standing forces.

Some lawmakers who have favored UMT were not in Washington. However, others said privately they fear the 1954 session is the wrong time to bring it up. They pointed out that it is an election year and the legislative program already is crowded.

After the Korean truce was signed, President Eisenhower asked the commission to take a look at "inequities" in the method by which military reserves are set up and other manpower problems.

The commission's report made public yesterday was in response to this request.

Slayer Of 4 Children Will Be Arraigned

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Hymn-singer Frank Holt goes into court Thursday to be arraigned on a charge he murdered four of his children by bludgeoning them with a crowbar.

Jefferson County officials said he probably would be given mental tests at Lima State Hospital after he is arraigned before Judge Arthur L. Hooper.

The grand jury indicted Holt yesterday on first degree murder charges.

The unemployed miner, who told sheriff's deputies he killed the youngsters to "save them from the tortures and torments of the devil," has been singing hymns and praying in jail since his arrest.

Bernard T. McCann, the county prosecutor, described Holt as a "religious fanatic."

Holt's fifth child, who was also beaten at their home at nearby East Springfield, remains in serious condition at the Ohio Valley Hospital.

Nixon May Give Report Today To Security Council

Talks Also Scheduled With Congressional, Departmental Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon has a briefcase full of problems, all studied at first hand, to spread before the National Security Council, perhaps today.

They deal with situations he examined in 70 days of travel and conversation with heads of government and plain citizens in Asia, the Middle East and the Pacific. These range from Australian unhappiness over some U.S. trade policies to the risks that a truce in Indochina would bring.

The council, composed of top officials of the executive department responsible for national policy at the highest level, has first call on Nixon's report on the trip that ended yesterday. Later this week and next he meets with congressional leaders and State Department officials.

May Be Radio Report

Nixon said President Eisenhower would decide whether there is to be a radio-TV report to the nation. He had a preliminary talk with the president yesterday.

By regions, here are some of the problems on which Nixon is prepared to report to the National Security Council:

1. South Pacific—Australia and New Zealand, both strongly pro-American, are worried by what they call "discriminatory" trade restrictions against their wool and dairy products. Nixon promised to report their protests, with the reminder that domestic American politics had to be considered.

At the same time, these two countries voiced strong opposition to the rearmament of Japan, a basic point in America's defense program for the rest of Asia.

2. Far East—Nixon was told that Japan, bursting with a temporary economic boom, is about to reassert its leadership over Asia. Economically, however, the Japanese face the problem of developing greater new markets, to offset

Father Holds Sons Hostages In Gun Fight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 28-year-old father who grabbed his two small sons as hostages and barricaded himself in a house trailer more than 16 hours was captured today by police. Neither child was hurt.

Charles McLaughlin, employee of a Columbus paper firm, was routed from the trailer at nearby Obetz by a tear-gas assault by sheriff's deputies.

Their father's arrest ended a night of terror for Charles Ivan McLaughlin, 7, and his 6-year-old brother, Ronald Lee.

Deputies said three shots were fired during their night-long vigil outside the trailer. They said McLaughlin fired at them once when they attempted to advance on the trailer. Two other shots were heard inside the trailer.

McLaughlin grabbed the boys when he learned his wife wanted to have him arrested for assault and battery. During the siege, deputies said McLaughlin yelled at them:

"I got a dirty deal from the law three years ago and I'd get one now. Don't come in—I've got a gun at the kids' heads."

Shortly after daybreak this morning, McLaughlin released one of his sons with this instruction:

"Go get your mother."

The tear-gas barrage followed. McLaughlin was seized as he staggered blindly from the trailer.

Deputies charged him with assault and battery, assault with a deadly weapon and shooting with intent to wound.

The McLaughlins have one other son, Robert Leon, 5. He was not taken hostage.

Dulles' Warning On EDC Treaty Arouses Protests

Yuletide Parties Of Local Groups Fete Children

Less-Fortunate Tots Are Not Forgotten; Santa's Pack Heavy

Civic groups and organizations are making Christmas a little merrier for children in Salem and vicinity this year by sponsoring pre-holiday parties beginning today with the Rotary Club's annual party for crippled children and concluding with the Salvation Army Sunday school party Dec. 24.

Events are scheduled as follows:

Salvation Army: Several parties will be sponsored by this group. The first, Wednesday evening at the Citadel, will include approximately 25 children of members, 11 through 16 years of age.

Saturday the Junior Legion party will be held for nearly 30 children of members, 5 to 11 years of age.

Dec. 23 and 24, the Salvation Army will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Underprivileged children who are accompanied by their parents will receive a toy. Approximately 250 children benefited from the toy shop last year.

The Sunday school party will be held Dec. 24 at 7:30 p.m. for about 14 adults and 75 children in the class. Santa will distribute gifts.

Sometime after Dec. 21, the Salvation Army will give sunshine baskets to children at the City and Clinic Hospitals. Adult patients in the hospitals and other institutions also will receive baskets distributed by the League of Mercy Women's Group.

Rotary: The club's party will be at 6 tonight at the Memorial Building. Santa will present a gift to each of the 25 children expected.

Eagles: The annual Christmas party for children of members of the Eagles lodge will be Saturday, Dec. 19, at 2 p.m. at the hall. Santa will distribute a gift to each child. The auxiliary will assist the men with the party.

Saxons: Branches 18 and 19 of the Salem Saxon Society will have a Christmas party for children of members Saturday, Dec. 19, at 7:30 p.m. Approximately 125 to 150 children are expected, and each will receive a package from Santa. The children will present their own program.

Bliss Company: Children of employees will be given a gift by Santa at the annual Christmas party Saturday, Dec. 19, at 2 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Golf Club: This group, including the Women's Association, will have

McCarthy Drops Bid To Question Gouzenko

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (D-Nev.) said today he has withdrawn his request to sit in on the questioning by Senate investigators of Igor Gouzenko, former Soviet code clerk who tipped authorities off to the Red spy ring in Canada in 1950.

McCarthy, senior Democrat on the Senate internal security subcommittee, said he had discussed with Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) the possibility of his accompanying Jenner, a committee investigator and court reporter to Canada to interview Gouzenko.

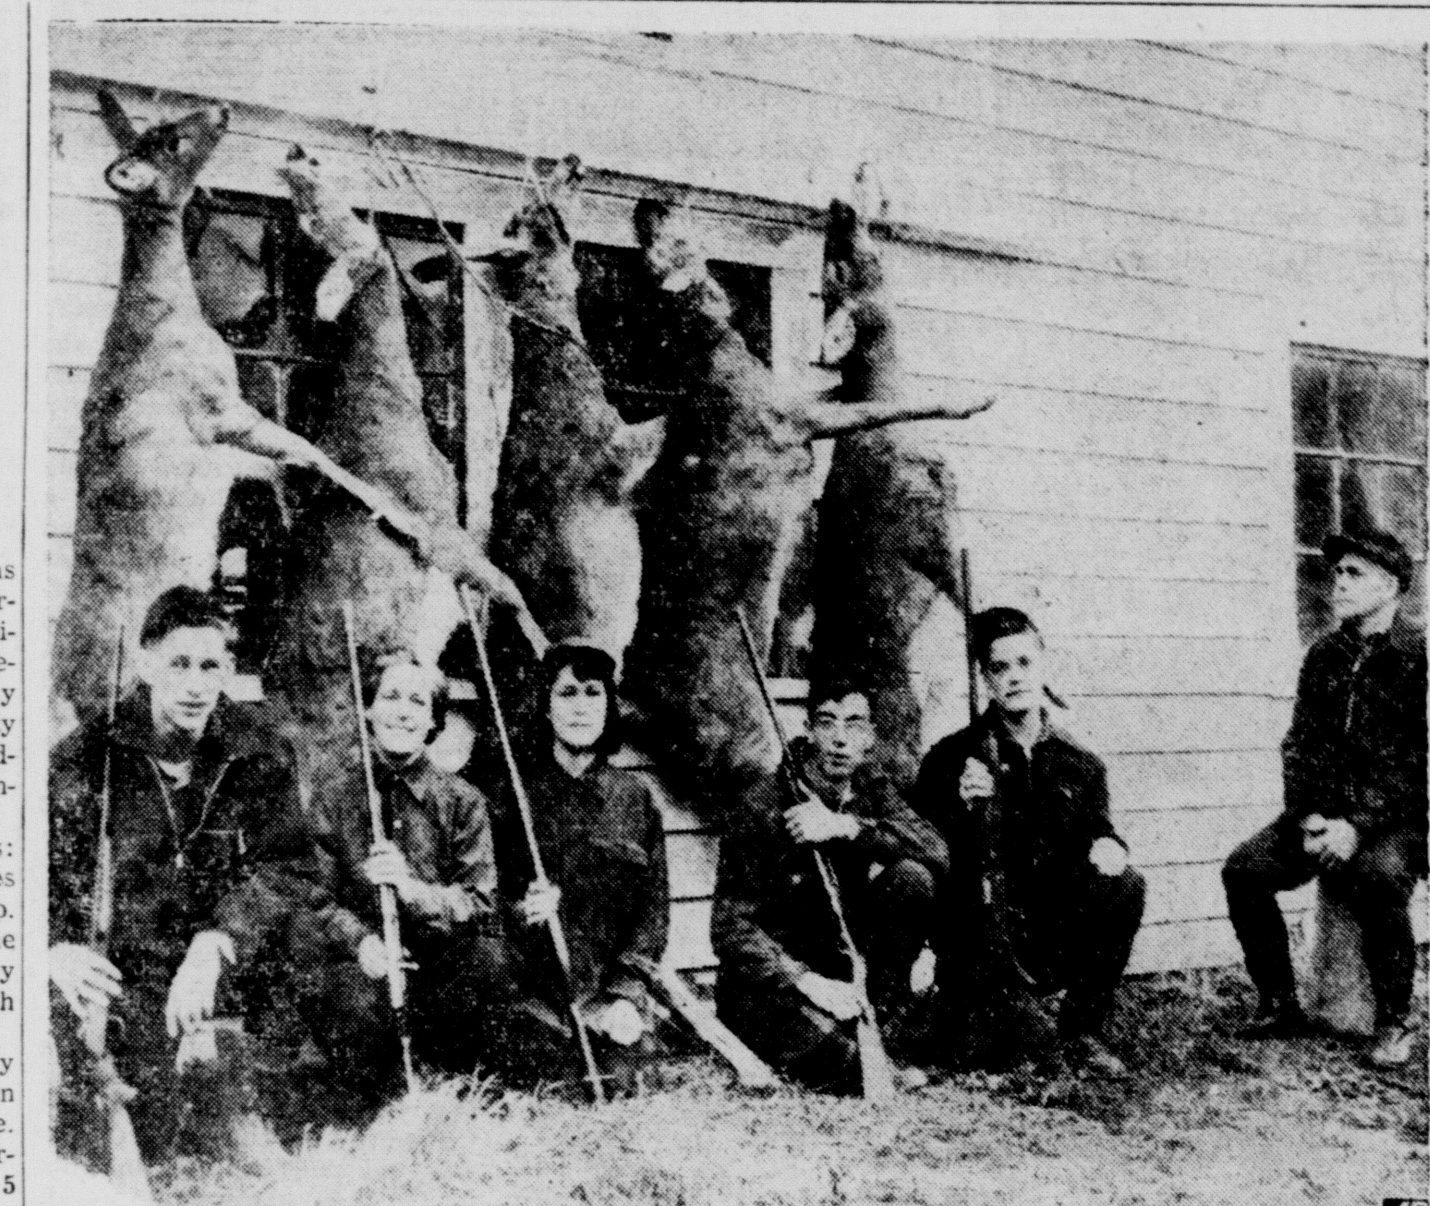

"Sen. Jenner said they had had a great deal of difficulty in arranging for the interview through the State Department and I didn't want to add to these difficulties by insisting that I accompany them," McCarthy said.

The Nevada senator said he thinks Gouzenko may provide the committee with some valuable leads to Communists still operating inside the U.S. government.

Jenner has indicated the subcommittee wants to question Gouzenko about a man it previously identified as "Mr. X," a member of Adm. Ernest J. King's staff when he was U. S. fleet commander in chief during the last war.

Dean In Japan; On Way Home

Envoy Had Rejected Red Talk Proposal

TOKYO (AP)—U.S. envoy Arthur H. Dean arrived today en route to Washington after bluntly rejecting a Communist proposal for immediate resumption of negotiations to set up a Korean peace conference.

The State Department envoy who for seven weeks wrangled with the Red diplomats at Panmunjom said he won't return to the conference table unless the Communists retract charges that the United States connived with South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Red war prisoners last June.

Dean broke off the talks Saturday.

A Communist note delivered early Tuesday suggested immediate resumption of negotiations. But an Allied spokesman said the note also repeated "the Red charge of perfidy."

It drew a prompt rejection. "I shall not be with you . . . at any time until you make an appropriate retraction or correction of this insult in a manner satisfactory to my government," Dean wrote in his reply.

He will leave Wednesday for Washington to report to the State Department and officials of 15 other United Nations which fought in Korea.

Dean, on his arrival in Tokyo, said the Communists "are deliberately stalling" the negotiations "because they do not dare to have the subject of the nonrepatriated prisoners aired" at the long-delayed peace conference.

He was referring to the 22,000 anti-Communist North Korean and Chinese prisoners who overwhelmingly have rejected opportunities to return home during explanations.

The Reds, he said, "knowingly and intentionally wrecked" the explanation program because "so few of their soldiers came home."

The U. S. State Department called in ambassadors representing its Korean War allies yesterday for a briefing on why the talks were suspended.

U. S. officials told the envoys Dean suspended the talks—but did not break them off entirely—until the Reds withdraw the perfidy charges and show a willingness to negotiate in good faith.

Allied Efforts To Win Back U. S. POWs Remain Stalled

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Allied efforts to win back American war prisoners who stayed with the Communists remained stalled today as the POWs spurned a personal appeal from the chairman of the Korean repatriation commission to attend interviews.

There was mounting speculation that none of the 22 Americans and 1 Briton would appear for explanations before the 90-day period for interviews expires Dec. 23.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya talked for 90 minutes with two prisoners identified as leaders in the compound—U.S. Sgt. R. G. Corden of East Providence, R. I., and British Marine Andrew Condon.

An Indian spokesman said the two leaders were removed after their private conference with Thimayya in a Korean hut outside the barbed wire compound where they are held by the repatriation commission.

The POW spokesmen said the Americans and Briton would not come out for face-to-face talks with American explainers until the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission settled a dispute with pro-Communist South Korean prisoners who also refuse to attend explanations.

Thimayya said earlier he personally felt the Americans simply did not want to attend the explanations. He called some of their reasons for stalling the interviews absurd.

Thimayya speculated that the new turn of events might end all chance that the American would attend any explanations.

The U.N. Command said today it was ready to interview any prisoner of any nationality who would come out tomorrow.

The U.N. move left it squarely up to the prisoners. Although it is officially a request to the Indian command, the Indians normally defer to the wishes of the prisoners.

The U.N. Command has indicated it would renew its request every day.

Gets Execution Stay For Canton Murder

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court today extended the stay of Russell Muskus, 31, Kanakake, Ill., under sentence of death for a murder in Canton, from Dec. 18 to Feb. 26, for his appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Muskus originally was sentenced to die in Ohio's electric chair Nov. 20 for the first degree murder of George J. LeMasters, 43, New Philadelphia, during a hotel fight in Canton Dec. 2, 1950.

Muskus was indicted with Sandra Lee Kingsley, 25, of Chicago in the slaying. The prosecution charged Sandra lured LeMasters to a room in the Milner Hotel where Muskus robbed and strangled him. She received a life sentence.

The Ohio Supreme Court originally stayed Muskus' execution until Dec. 18 to permit his appeal and granted the extension to Feb. 26 at the request of his attorneys.

French Officials 'Furious' Over Blunt Remarks

Secretary Says U. S. May Recall Troops If Pact Isn't Ratified

PARIS (AP)—The NATO Council of Ministers heard more discussion today of Europe's political situation amid a storm of protest aroused by U. S. Secretary of State Dulles' warning that France must ratify the European army pact soon or face a U. S. "reappraisal" of its European policies.

French officials were reported furious over Dulles' blunt remarks, which implied that any reappraisal might involve a shift of U. S. troops and aid from the European continent. Paris newspapers termed his statement a "brutal ultimatum."

In London, British newspapers of varying political shades also sharply criticized the remarks as "folly" and "best left unsaid."

Officials Refuse Comment

Most officials were guarded or refused comment on Dulles' declaration, though Italian Premier Giuseppe Pella termed it "a very courageous statement." Dutch Foreign Minister J. W. Beyen called it "very important." British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden declined to comment.

"I have nothing at all to say," snapped French Foreign Minister George Bidault.

Dulles spoke yesterday to a news conference after addressing the opening meeting of the NATO Council gathering. Informants said he made the same points to the council.

In the strongest language yet heard at a NATO meeting, the secretary of state warned:

1. Unless the European Defense Community Treaty is ratified quickly, the United States will have to "re-study" how to implement its obligations to NATO, and the disposition of U. S. troops "would, of course, be a factor in the agonizing reappraisal."

Warns Germany, France

2. If the Western nations, "especially France and Germany," decide to commit suicide by failing to unite, "they may have to commit it alone."

Dulles' threats were aimed mainly at the French, who first proposed the EDC and then turned sour on the idea. They fear the pact, which would bring 12 West German divisions into a six-nation European army would give German troops a new chance to invade France.

Yet many French leaders agree a European army including West Germans is necessary to defend Western Europe against Soviet attack.

Bidault reported on the Dulles statement at a meeting of the French Cabinet. There was no indication, however, of the ministers' reaction. The foreign minister and Premier Joseph Laniel also reported on the recent Big Three talks in Bermuda.

Might Reduce Chances

Although no official mention was made of the Dulles statement, French sources said privately that his remarks might reduce still further the chances that the National Assembly would ratify the EDC Treaty.

The secretary's blast also appeared aimed at Italy and Britain. The Italian government has threatened to hold up action on EDC

Red Cross Sees That Santa Gets To Korea

Will it "shake when he laughs like a bowlful of jelly"?

Sgt. Edwin Bennicott, of Lynn, Mass., adjusts "Santa's" hood.

Santa acts coy, Connie guffaws and the bedridden G.I. grins with appreciation as he opens gifts.

Ill and wounded G.I.'s in Korea will be sure of a real "Santa" Christmas as once again the American Red Cross helps them celebrate the day. Scenes shown here will be duplicated this Christmas. Once more Connie Fescina, of Hazelton, Pa., a Red Cross worker, will spend her holiday making the rounds of the 121st Evacuation Hospital, near Seoul, as she did last year. Then Cpl. Robert Leach, of Calloway, Neb., acted as "Santa Claus." The pictures show him getting ready for the job. After gifts are distributed, Connie plays the piano, leading ambulatory patients in Christmas songs. After Christmas dinner, holiday egg nog and cookies are distributed. Korean child dancers put on a performance and a choir of Korean youngsters sings old-time Christmas carols—in Korean. In addition to helping make Christmas merry for the servicemen in Korea, the Red Cross will distribute 40,000 Christmas stockings filled with gifts for G.I.'s anywhere in the world.

Honesty's Burden

By LAURA HOBSON

"Finders keepers" is a simple old rule, but I've just been talking to a young man who knows it's hard to make it stick of a $10,000 bracelet is involved.

"I wish I'd never found it," he said, and it wasn't too hard to draw him out as to why. His name is Barry Bond, he's 26, and on Columbus Day, 1952, he picked up a diamond bracelet in the Normandie Picture Theater in New York, where he was assistant manager. The bracelet was an inch wide, with the famous name of Cartier on it, and though he couldn't cast its value, it was a dizzying sight.

THEN CAME tough news. The day before he was to receive it, the theater's owner, David Weinstein, had filed legal claim to it, stating that anything found on his premises belonged to him. "I started suit the next day," Mr. Bond said, "and then some more time dragged by. Finally, fourteen months after I found it, we settled out of court. We were going to sell the bracelet and split the proceeds."

"Fifty-fifty?" "I'd rather not say," he said. "But it was better than that for me."

"Something like 60-40?" "Something."

"Well, that's pretty good," I pointed out.

Barry Bond ended bitterly, "is a lost job, nothing but odds and ends of work ever since, and all my savings gone for expenses."

There was a long pause. "They say honesty's the best policy, but I sure wish I'd never laid eyes on the thing."

AFTERWARDS, I couldn't help contrasting this lost and found episode with a lot pleasanter one about a ring lost in America by Edwin J. Snyder, 60, and found over 3,000 miles away by a Mr. F. Huysbrachts in Belgium.

Mr. Huysbrachts recently opened a crate from the Ford factory in Chester, Pa., and was startled by the twinkle of gold. The letter he sent when he shipped back the ring tells the story:

"We had the surprise," he wrote, "to find in box 2891 of lot 169, a 10-carat gold ring with a diamond in it, and as we think it may have some value for the man who lost it, we are mailing it."

Maybe in Belgium there are no proberts about "finders keepers" and "possession is eleven points of the law." And what the Belgian equivalent for "bravo" is, I'm not linguist enough to know, but I hope telepathy works even without translation.

America's largest grouse is the western sage hen.

University Students Pay Fines In Blood

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Fraternity men at the University of Pennsylvania start paying their fines in blood today.

The Inter-Fraternity Council decided that when fines are assessed against member fraternities for violating council rules, the fines can be paid off at the rate of one pint of blood for each $5 fine.

Half the blood will go to the Red Cross blood bank. The other half will go for 17-year-old Eddie Fox of Orrtanna, Pa., in Adams County. Eddie was badly burned in a futile attempt to save a younger brother from burning to death in a fire 3½ years ago. He still needs at least two blood transfusions a week at University Hospital here.

Lonely 'Girl In Blue' To Be Remembered

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (P)—Willoughby's lonely "Girl in Blue" will be remembered by a cemetery visit this Christmas Eve, just as she has been for 20 years.

On Dec. 24, 1933, the girl who was never identified threw herself in front of an express train. This year as they have every year since townspeople will spread flowers on her grave.

Wearing a dark blue topcoat, a navy blue skirt a light blue sweater and a dark blue turban hat, the girl got off a bus from Cleveland that depression year and took a room at the home of Mrs. Mary Judd.

Later she went to the door, and wished Mrs. Judd a "Merry Christmas." Those were the last words anybody reported hearing her say. Then she walked to the tracks, along sidewalks partially lighted by Christmas tree lights, and jumped in front of the train.

Residents, failing to learn her identity despite widespread reports of the tragedy, buried her and marked the grave with a three-foot granite headstone. It read:

"In memory of the girl in blue, killed by train, unknown but not forgotten, Dec. 24, 1933."

Secrecy Lid Off Some Documents

New Rules Govern Security Information

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's plan for yanking some of the secrecy tags from government documents went into effect today with no signs of any great outpouring of information previously kept confidential.

The order is avowedly intended to give the people "a maximum amount of information" without endangering national security.

It replaces a set of rules laid down by former President Truman Sept. 24, 1951, which Atty. Gen. Brownell called repressive and capable of permitting government officials to cover up mistakes and "dereliction of duty."

The new order emphasizes realistic decisions as to what security and national defense information should be secret. But officials still can bottle up nonsecurity information by administrative action. And the secrecy of a lot more documents, such as income tax returns, is protected by law.

The Eisenhower program does away with the lowest, "restricted" category for classifying security data and leaves only confidential, secret and top secret gradings.

That means that as of last midnight, probably tons of documents labeled restricted no longer will be secret in any way. It doesn't mean the government is going to publish or mimeograph all of it, now or later on. But ordinary citizens or newsmen who know what they want will be entitled to have a look.

Even in this arrangement there are a couple of catches:

In many agencies it will take some time to rip off restricted stickers.

And some of the hitherto restricted material, instead of being declassified, is going to be shoved up to the higher confidential grade where it still will be secret—for example Pentagon documents relating to codes and some which foreign governments marked restricted.

The Commerce Department, with a much smaller stock of restricted papers, predicts about 90 per cent will be downgraded. The Treasury Department says the same of 80 to 85 per cent of its previously restricted information.

The presidential order takes away from 28 federal agencies any power to classify any material for security. But these are agencies dealing with such things as housing, parks, and battle monuments, which didn't handle any security secrets anyway.

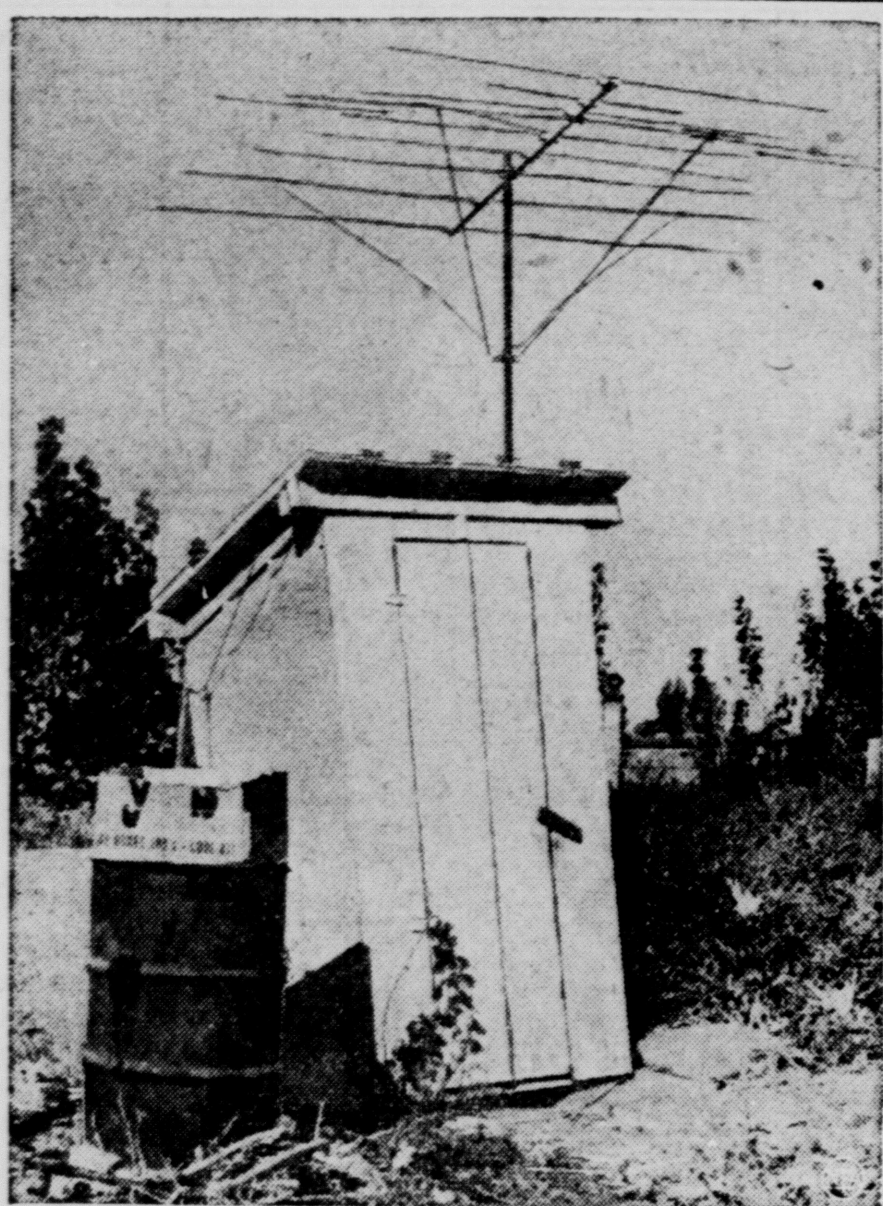

In 17 of the remaining departments and agencies, only the top man—no underlings—can classify information.

All along the line, department and agency heads have issued instructions for a re-examination of files with a view to declassifying some material and upgrading other information. In some offices, the job will take months.

FOILS HOLDUP MAN

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP)—Police said a grocer drove off a holdup man armed with a knife last night by throwing "everything he could get his hands on." The missiles included salad dressing, oleomargarine and cheese.

McCarthy Again Raps Harvard U.

President Pusey Makes No Comment

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), in a new blast at Harvard University, says the college apparently is a sanctuary "for Fifth Amendment cases."

President Nathan M. Pusey of Harvard said in Cambridge, Mass., last night that he had no comment. He has said previously there are no Communists on the Harvard faculty and that use of the Fifth Amendment is not "a confession of guilt."

The senator's slap at the university came yesterday during hearings here by the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee, which he heads.

Last night Wendell H. Furry, a Harvard professor, said at his home in Belmont, Mass., that he has been called to appear before the subcommittee tomorrow.

McCarthy is holding public hearings into alleged Communist espionage at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., the Army Signal Corps headquarters of America's top secret radar defense.

The senator's comment on Harvard came as he wound up questioning of the last of four witnesses called yesterday in the Ft. Monmouth probe.

Mrs. Sylvia Berke, a Bronx public school clerk, was summoned to testify about a job she held at Ft. Monmouth between 1942 and 1943.

Mrs. Berke denied she was a Communist at that time or last September when she testified at a closed hearing. However, she refused to say whether she ever had been a Communist, citing the Fifth Amendment.

The amendment is a guarantee to witnesses against possible self-incrimination.

McCarthy suggested that Mrs. Berke, if the Board of Education fires her, "might apply for a job over at Harvard."

"It seems to be a sanctuary over there for Fifth Amendment cases," said McCarthy. "You can get a letter of recommendation from your Communist cell and get a job from Mr. Pusey."

McCarthy and Pusey are old foes from Wisconsin, where Pusey opposed McCarthy's re-election when he was president of Lawrence College in the senator's home town, Appleton.

After yesterday's public hearing, McCarthy went into closed sessions to hear some Griffiths Air Force Base employees.

The senator later told newsmen he knew of at least 12 employees of the base at Rome, N. Y., who have been suspended as security or loyalty risks. He said his subcommittee staff had talked to them and that they would be questioned in New York this week.

Agricultural Council Criticizes Parents Lack Of Understanding

LISBON — Lack of understanding on the part of parents is a major obstruction to the progress of rural youth organizations in the county. This was a major point emphasized at a panel discussion on the activities of farm boys and girls at a meeting of the County Agricultural Council Monday night at Fairfield Centralized School. Twenty-five attended.

"To have good enthusiastic clubs," Ralph Schneider of North Georgetown declared, "the fathers and mothers must be in favor of their children belonging." Schneider is a 4-H and boy scout leader in Knox Township.

Other problems of country youth groups listed by the panel, composed of three teenage and three adult leaders, were lack of program guidance, poor attendance and lack of finances.

Other panelists, beside Schneider, were Ross Ludwig of Lisbon, county boy scout executive; Harold Windram of RD Leetonia, vocational agriculture teacher; Janice Groves of RD Salem, Don Kelch of RD Lisbon and Grover Lippincott of RD Minerva.

School health was discussed briefly after a letter from County Superintendent James L. McBride was read requesting the group's opinion of the problem.

Fairfield, Columbiana, Leetonia, New Waterford and Unity Schools are considering hiring two nurses to work among the schools. These five schools were formerly serviced by County Health Department nurses.

T. V. Utterback, Fairfield superintendent, said, "We would rather have had services from the Health Department but we feel that the health of the children is so important that we are trying this new plan."

Floyd Lower, county extension agent, presented a report of the rural-urban committee and Miss Josephine Dunn read the revised plan of organization which was approved by the members.

Indians To Release Prisoners Of War

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya said today Indian troops will not retain custody of war prisoners who have refused to go home after Jan. 22—clearing the way for their release as civilians. The Korean armistice provides unrepatriated prisoners are to be turned over to Indian custody on Jan. 22. The Communists, however, have argued the prisoners should be held in Korea's neutral zone until a peace conference decides their fate.

Thimayya said in an interview Indian troops would have to have approval of both the Communists and the Allies to keep custody of the prisoners after the Jan. 22 deadline.

Thimayya is chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission which supervises the almost 23,000 Chinese, Korean, American and British POWs who have refused repatriation.

Aircraft Co. Employees OK Wage Boost

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Striking North American Aviation, Inc., employees in Fresno, Calif., have ratified a union-management agreement providing a 4 per cent wage increase. Workers at plant here and in Columbus, Ohio, ballot today.

The agreement was reached by negotiators here early yesterday, presaging an early resumption of warplane production. Some 33,000 workers in the three plants left their jobs Oct. 23.

The agreement between North American and the CIO United Auto Workers came a few hours after new contracts had been ratified by 35,000 employees at Lockheed Aircraft Corp., and Douglas Aircraft's Santa Monica plant. Employees of these companies die not strike.

The North American vote at the Fresno plant last night was 347 to 38 in favor of the agreement, a company spokesman said.

Raises at North American plants will range from 8 to 20 cents an hour, from a previous pay rate spread of $1.42 to $2.32 hourly. Douglas and Lockheed contracts provided over-all increases of 6 cents an hour, including a higher cost of living allowance. At Lockheed previous pay rates ranged from $1.40 to $2.41, and at Douglas from $1.39 to $2.40.

las from $1.39 to $2.40.

The North American agreement, however, is dissimilar in a number of provisions. These, the company spokesman said, include:

Only workers who are members of the union or who voluntarily join it will be required to maintain union membership. Workers who have resigned, nonunion employees and persons hired in the future will not be required to join the union.

This provision replaces the modified union shop clause in the previous contract, which required all employees in the union to pay union dues in order to keep their jobs and also required all new employees to join.

Increased group insurance at no added cost, three weeks vacation with pay for workers with 15 years or more service and guaranteed paid holidays are also provided in the new pact.

Pay increases, said North American, will cost over 14 million dollars annually.

The vote on ratification here is set for 1 p. m., EST today, and at Columbus for 10 a. m.

No 'Phony War'

Since it has been pointed out by many commentators that the vital point in President Eisenhower's United Nations speech was his promise of immediate and violent retaliation if the United States were attacked, the President's reason for saying it has become important.

His countrymen always had assumed there would be retaliation in the event of attack and had taken it for granted the retaliation would be immediate and violent. They had been told for many years this was the reason for the development of world-ranging bombers and their organization in the Strategic Air Force.

No American needs to be told his government can use military force only in retaliation, this being one of the fixed conditions of popular sovereignty.

No American government which launched an attack could justify itself. It is in the historic record that the United States had to wait for Pearl Harbor though knowing Japan had made the decision to fight. But the United States could not strike the first blow.

Why, then, did the President say what apparently did not need to be said? The answer seems to lie in the nature of atomic warfare.

He does not want the Kremlin to make the error of thinking the United States might be sucked into war by slow degrees, the way Germany eased its intended victims into World War II—the "phony war" that lasted from September, 1939, until the next June.

At the first warlike move, the United States would do everything in its power to blow Russia's key areas into oblivion with all the A-bombs in its arsenal; it would retaliate.

If the Kremlin is more interested in peace than war it can join the United States in a plan to pool a part of the world's atomic resources for peaceful research and thereby show it does not want war.

It continues to be a good bet this will look like a sound idea to the men in the Kremlin when they have had time to think about it.

One For The Road

The director of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission, Paul E. Burke, is putting publicity pressure behind the idea of making coffee the drink "for the road" at the breakup of holiday parties this year.

Burke explains in a letter containing this and other proposals for widening the 1953 safety margin that the coffee "nightcap" came out of a conference he had with tavern owners in 1952.

It caught on with fair success. This year it's likely a large number of bar patrons may be pleasantly surprised by a cup of coffee "on the house" before starting home. Burke suggests if the patrons fail to see merit in taking a coffee break for safety's sake that tavern owners might sell them one more high-potency drink at a premium price—the customer's car keys.

But this is not a solution for the problem of what to do with the spectacular increase of traffic accidents during the Christmas season. The same thing happens during every holiday.

The solution is a stronger sense of responsibility on the part of drivers who endanger their own lives and the lives of others by recklessness.

Not all of them get that way by drinking alcoholic beverages. Most of them get that way by simple failure to think of automobiles as lethal weapons which must be handled more cautiously than loaded guns because they're more dangerous.

The Beginning Of Wisdom

In the speech which Lady Churchill read for her absent husband when he was awarded the Nobel prize for literature last week, this memorable observation was made:

"The power of man has grown in every sphere except over himself. Never in the field of action have events seemed so harshly to dwarf personalities. Rarely in history have brutal facts so dominated thought or has such widespread, individual virtue found so dim a focus. The fearful question confronts us: Have our problems got beyond our control? Undoubtedly we are passing through a phase where this may be so. Well may we humble ourselves and seek for guidance and mercy."

Sir Winston Churchill has been a dominant figure of his era. His personality has had a powerful impact on people and events in his time. Yet, in the twilight of his years, accepting a prize for his outstanding merit as one of the most articulate men of his time, he confesses in public he does not have the answers.

His candor is commended to those who say they do have them yet have not contributed a fraction as much to human understanding as Sir Winston has contributed.

A judge says some wives are affectionate only when they want spending money. Isn't that often enough?

Foreign Policy Poll

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Messages Show Serious Division Of Opinion

They better start analyzing those telegrams and letters in the McCarthy - versus - the administration controversy over foreign policy received recently at the White House.

The analysis may contain an answer as to whether the Republicans will lose control of both houses of Congress in 1954 and also the presidential election in 1956.

It would be worth while for the White House staff to conduct a mail research for it is irrelevant merely to count the telegrams and letters and say, as the White House press secretary did the other day, that the telegrams were "slightly ahead" on the administration side whereas McCarthy was somewhat ahead on the letters.

WHAT MUST BE ascertained basically is how many of the writers of the 50,000 telegrams and letters voted for Stevenson in 1952 and now are ready to switch their allegiance and how many voted for Eisenhower and now either will stay away from the polls or vote Democratic.

A 50,000 sample is big enough as scientific studies have shown. Actually many of the Gallup Polls are based on a sample of only 2,000 per study.

Judging by the information given out it could be assumed that the count showed 52 per cent in favor of the administration and 48 per cent opposed to its policies.

If the breakdown shows that of the Democrats 90 per cent differed with McCarthy and 10 per cent agreed with him it wouldn't be of much avail to the White House from a political viewpoint unless the Republican disaffection were also small.

But if as many as 25 per cent of the Republicans are in disagreement with the President's position on a continuance of trade with Red China then Republican Chairman Leonard Hall may be repeating his classic remark after the Wisconsin election: "We're in trouble."

HOW MANY of those who wrote letters or telegrams dealt with the issue on which they were asked to write? Many newspaper dispatches, for example, failed to make the issues clear.

Secretary Dulles himself garbled to a certain extent the Wisconsin senator's speech by attributing to him something he never said—"Perfumed notes to our allies." McCarthy was talking about our vacillations in dealing with the Communists at Panmunjom.

Here is exactly how the reference to "perfumed notes" arose in Sen. McCarthy's speech:

"On September 12, 1953, the Chinese Communists announced that they would not treat as prisoners of war American fliers who were shot down during the Korean war, over Manchuria. On September 10, 1953, the Army had announced that some 900 American young men known to have been prisoners of the Communists in Korea were still unaccounted for. Unaccounted for, as of tonight, my friends.

"Well why do I bring this situation up tonight in talking about the Republican party? The Republican party did not create this situation, I admit. We inherited it. But we are responsible for the proper handling of this situation as of tonight. And what are we going to do about it? Are we going to continue to send perfumed notes following the style of the Truman-Acheson regime? Or are we going to take the only position that an honorable nation can take—namely that every uniformed American packed the pride and the power of this nation on his shoulders?"

THE WISCONSIN senator's question, moreover, is still unanswered to this day. News has been suppressed about the circumstances surrounding the detention of 900 American boys who still have not been returned despite the fact that the Korean armistice terms stipulated that all prisoners who wanted to come back must be returned. How many of the senders of the letters and telegrams faced that concrete issue when they expressed their views to the White House?

In another section of the same speech, to be sure, Sen. McCarthy denounced the Allied trade with Red China.

Great Britain, for instance, doesn't deny that she exported rubber—a strategic material—to Russia throughout the Korean war.

Moscow has admitted publicly that Soviet Russia has been sending munitions and war materials to Red China during the Korean War.

The Truman and Eisenhower administrations did not use their maximum influence with the allies to stop that trade.

THAT'S THE MCCARTHY charge and that's why he and other senators advocate cutting off financial and economic aid to the Allies if they insist on supplying war materials to the enemy in a war in which our own soldiers are engaged.

How many of the senders of the letters and telegrams concerned themselves with that issue?

The barrage of letters and telegrams means that there is a serious division of opinion about a policy of constant "give away" to our allies without obtaining a faithful adherence by them to the simple proposition of protecting the lives of American soldiers from snags in the back with weapons made from materials sold by merchants in allied countries.

Any candidate for Congress in either party who wants to test that issue at the polls next autumn need have no doubt as to what the vote would be.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Psoriasis Is Annoying But Harmless

Repeatedly I receive inquiries concerning the common skin disease known as psoriasis. I have to state that no sure, dramatic cure is yet available. Some time, I hope, a better picture can be painted.

Unfortunately the cause of psoriasis, like so many other diseases of the skin, is not known. The condition often comes in several members of the same family and this familial tendency has been noted by many doctors.

In psoriasis, the skin usually appears bright red and scaly on the surface. There is a sharp dividing line between the normal skin and that which is affected by the disease.

Psoriasis may start suddenly or gradually with only a few spots scattered on various parts of the body. It can cover only a small part of the skin or spread to a great deal of the body surface.

When psoriasis starts suddenly, severe itching is common. In the more chronic cases which are all too frequent, there is little or no itching.

Those portions of the skin which have been involved for a long time generally become covered with a thick scale. If this scale is scraped off, tiny points of bleeding appear underneath.

Many treatments are being used for psoriasis. Most of them bring about good results, at least temporarily. Many victims of psoriasis get better for a time after treatment, then get worse again and, if the treatment is tried again, do not improve at all.

The remedies most commonly used by skin specialists for psoriasis include coal tar ointments, exposure to ultraviolet or sunlight rays, and sometimes X-ray. There is no single treatment without any failures.

Words Used As Weapons

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

In the struggle for power, everything becomes a weapon—even words. Symbols and ideas, clothed in good or bad words, are planted in the minds of men and women and children. We see a y "Nazi" and a thousand images present themselves to the man with the funny mustache, the marching battalions, the murderous camps, a black page of history. The word, Nazi, is a bad word and will probably always remain bad, like hobgoblin or dragon.

Sometimes the phrase is not so clear, or instance, among intellectuals, "Historical Necessity," is a much debated term. It has, in a manner, been used to replace in their minds the theological term, God.

THE RELIGIOUS man will say that man is guided in life by Natural Law, the revealed law of God.

The Marxist also has a determining factor, "Historical Necessity," by which he explains that which has no explanation in morals as, for instance, the man-made famine in the Ukraine with its holocaust or the party purges with their whimsical murders.

The theologian says, "It is God's will"; that man lives morally by Natural Law; the Marxist says "It is historical necessity." The theologian says that man lives morally by Natural Law; the Marxist says that man does what he must do because history requires that he do it.

To a modern mind, the term "Historical Necessity" sounds modern. It sounds as though it really answers some questions while actually it only raises new ones.

IT SATISFIES the mind that wants to avoid responsibility for personal or public conduct. It is a way out until challenged.

The term, Marxist, is with some a good word and with others a bad word. Those who follow this new divinity, Karl Marx, believe that he has the answer for everything; those who abhor this secular doctrine look upon it as an obscene disturbance of an orderly system of life that for the last 2,000 years has been of benefit to man. By using the phrase, "Historical Necessity," the Marxists have been able to clothe their ideas in language which many anti-Communists, particularly among those who are engaged in the physical and natural sciences, can accept.

SUCH A WORD as "McCarthyism" works its way into the language. Immediately it becomes a cause to be fought for or against. Sen. McCarthy accepted it as a challenge after the "Daily Worker" thrust the word upon us. As a bad word, it has been made to include more than the personality or conduct of Sen. McCarthy.

I have heard it repeated even by serious-minded persons that McCarthyism means an attack on Protestant churches. The fact is that Dr. J. B. Matthews never testified on this subject before the McCarthy committee.

The contention arose over an article in "The American Mercury," written and prepared for publication before Matthews joined the staff of the McCarthy committee.

Nevertheless, it has become associated with McCarthyism. A vast propaganda has been let loose to make McCarthyism a bad word.

ANTI-SEMITISM is a bad word per se. It represents a negative concept of life, an opposition to human beings on narrow racial and religious grounds.

Therefore whatever can be identified as anti-Semitic is bad. This word has been used to separate Jews from good friends.

All Communists must be anti-Semitic because it is essential in Communism that God is a myth, religion an opiate, and any group separate from others on any basis but the class struggle should be suppressed.

In the Soviet Empire, anti-Semitism is practiced as state and party policy.

Moral Rearmament is being fought because it rejects the class struggle and insists that only those who live moral lives can observe life from a moral standpoint.

IN THIS movement, man struggles with himself as Job did; if he can change himself into a morally guided person, he is likely to have a standard for conduct which comes not from the exaltation of man but guidance from God.

Here is a use of words as a weapon for positive living as an individual which differs from class dictatorship in the present phase of the Marxist revolution.

Words as weapons are being used on all sides, like sown seeds. Sometimes they blossom into magnificent beauty; sometimes they grow into weeds that clutter our lives and fill the world with misconception and misery.

Blind Spots

There are some things a fellow can't understand because, he has a blind spot, is contrary, or has mistreated as a baby.

How did the cigar makers ever get slickered into cutting their own throats with that scare advertising?

Who started the idea that George Burns without Gracie Allen would be just another vaudeville straight man?

When is it going to dawn on a lot of Yankee Doodle Dandies that most of what they're encouraged to argue about by their public officials is stuff cooked up to keep them from arguing about something else?

Why isn't it easy to get that delicious hard candy which can had almost anywhere at Christmas during other seasons of the year?

What is the logic of criticizing a president of the United States for not being a shrewd politician when he was elected president of the United States because he was not a shrewd politician?

Why is it worse for a boy to go to college on an athletic scholarship than it is to go on a scholarship for being a drum major, a tuba player, or a whiz kid in mathematics?

Where do women learn to manage arguments so their baffled husbands wind up in blind alleys with sacks over their heads and their hands tied?

What will happen to social customs if it finally becomes too expensive in the United States for an ordinary taxpayer to die and he must perform this final grim chore without bankrupting his survivors?

When do goat-stomached consumers who have bolted their food from childhood without chewing it finally have to start handling this problem the same as all other people?

Whatever became of the custom of sending impudent kids sprawling across the floor on their backsides if they failed to show proper respect for their elders—and why?

Can a man acquire wisdom by the circumstance of having been lucky enough to get his hands on a lot of money instead of a lot of learning—and if not why pretend he can?

What could be more important in public education than ability to read and write the language of one's own country and where does the idea come from that people who can do something else yet cannot do this are educated?

Where do power companies and telephone companies find enough men to climb all those poles in all kinds of weather and to risk their lives after dark in fire storms?

When, if ever, do the kind of people who make sour remarks about everything find something to feel good about?

Why couldn't the reforestation needs of the United States be taken care of by not cutting down any Christmas trees for the next 10 years?

Little Jerry Clemens says he no longer expects to get what he tells his family he wants for Christmas and knows he has to be satisfied with what he needs.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Daily Newspaper, I Love You

A big city without newspapers has a deathly quality. The heartbeat of a metropolis is slowed. It is the same feeling, magnified a thousand-fold, that a family experiences when a colorful member is lost.

Father Knickerbocker, deprived suddenly of his newspapers, felt as a man feels when long shut in by a blizzard, or when the phone service is discontinued. Or as a youth feels when his first gal moves out of town without warning. It is the feeling you get in a great house when the clock stops abruptly.

Never before had New Yorkers realized fully what a newspaper meant to them. It had become rather commonplace for people to think of the radio and TV as having made the paper less essential. "I can get along with the broadcasts," Joe Citizen had said often.

This idea found itself washed up before New York had been without newspapers for 48 hours. By the end of three days Pop would have swapped all the radio and TV newscasters for one page of his newspaper; Mom would have sworn off the quiz programs for a look at the society columns and the "obits"; the small fry would have passed up the best TV show on the air for the comic strips.

The newspaper had come out so regularly that people had come to accept it as they accept the sunrise. Other things might fail them but the paper came regularly despite hell and high water. Abruptly the idea that a man could keep hep to events without the Fourth Estate was blighted. Never did radio and TV seem so inadequate.

Eight million New Yorkers woke up to the stern realization that missing the printed weather forecast, engagement notice, marriage announcement, obituary, cooking recipe, restaurant guide, book review and Hollywood divorce rumor was like missing a square meal. Folks who didn't think editorials meant much to them found they had unknowingly become editorial addicts.

Men who had read the stock market quotations casually realized that life was dull without them. There were tens of thousands of New Yorkers who would have swapped the greatest TV show for a dramatic column and the play review.

There were just as many who would have exchanged the top airwave comedians for their newspaper columnists, strip cartoons and other features. The crossword puzzle, racing results, and classified ad followers might as well have had eleven days on a rubber raft.

How the housewife missed the daily newspaper prices on meat and potatoes! How the Christmas shoppers missed the Christmas ads! During the newspaperless days the society scandal, the change in a Broadway cast, a good sports page story and even the advertisement "I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my wife, etc.," became of paramount importance.

We would have turned in any 3-D movie, any telecast and any radio entertainment for just a look at an apology for a misspelled name or the story of how two people we didn't know had their car stolen in a town we never heard of by thieves who were too small-time to rate mention. It will be a long time before you will hear any New Yorker chirp, "I didn't get my paper last night. But it didn't make much difference. I have a radio and TV set." A good newspaper is a combination Bible, calendar, almanac, guide, educational institution, book of knowledge and greatest show on earth. It's a box score of life.

The New Jersey Supreme Court has barred the distribution of Bibles in the public schools. . . The hope that America will be as fearful of the other books the kids are deluged with today is probably premature.

There is now to be a Big Four Conference, Russia consenting, and a good fight program is assured.

8-10 Inches Of Snow Covers Geauga County

CHARDON, Ohio (P)—Gauga County, known for its snow and maple sugar, had from 8 to 10 inches of snow in spots today.

Highway workers reported the most snow along Ohio 422 which runs from Cleveland to Youngstown. This county seat had 7 inches. It's still snowing.

6 Cities Get Sewer Permit Extensions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—The Ohio Water Pollution Control Board today said it has renewed permits of six municipalities to discharge waste into Ohio waters conditioned on steps to control or diminish pollution.

The renewed permits granted included:

Marion—To Dec. 1, 1954, conditioned on the satisfactory operation of the present system. Marion has just completed $600,000 in improvements.

Buffton (Allen County)—To next Dec. 1, to complete and put into operation a sewage treatment plant now under construction.

Chesapeake (Lawrence County)—To Oct. 1, to renovate sludge beds of existing sewage treatment facilities.

Jamestown (Greene County)—To July 1, to complete repairs to its sewage treatment plant.

Montpiller (Williams County)—To May 3, to complete general plans for a sewage treatment works.

Wapakoneta (Auglaize County)—To May 3, calling for plans to improve sewage treatment.

The board also renewed sewage discharge permits for six hospitals. Nolly Stark Hospital in Stark County near Canton was given a permit until Nov. 1, 1955, calling for "continued, satisfactory operations of its sewage treatment plant."

Three other hospitals got permits to next Dec. 1, calling for satisfactory operations of existing facilities. They are Avalon Sanatorium, Inc., near Lima and Licking County's Tuberculosis Sanatorium near Newark.

The Trumbull County Tuberculosis Hospital near Warren was given a permit to May 3, calling for completion of plans for sewage treatment improvements. The Tuscarawas Valley Sanatorium near New Philadelphia was given a permit to June 1 to complete arrangements for the discharge of sewage into a county system.

Youngstown Airport Shares Defense Funds

WASHINGTON (P)—The Department of Defense had another $268,692,130 to carry on its military construction program today in the absence of protests by the senate Appropriations Committee.

The funds were part of $368,989,130 frozen by Congress in the last session because they were not spent in the period for which they had been appropriated.

Of the sum, the Department of the Army received $43,181,500, the Navy $68,945,630 and the Air Force $156,565,000.

Details of the projects involved were not disclosed.

The funds allocated included: Camp Perry, Ohio, $254,000. Youngstown Municipal Airport, Youngstown, $182,000.

Air Materiel Command—Wright-Patterson, $1,067,000.

until settlement of its dispute with Yugoslavia over Trieste. Britain has turned down French pleas that she ally herself unreservedly with the pact to prevent German dominance in the organization.

The right-wing Paris newspaper L'Aurore, normally pro-American, described Dulles' statement as "heartbreaking" and accused him of "a complete lack of diplomacy."

In Britain, the Liberal Manchester Guardian commented: "It would be folly simply because of failure to agree immediately on arming Germany, to tear down the defenses which have been built in Europe since 1950. The suicide would be America's as much as Europe's."

Boy Is Sentenced After Theater Theft

LISBON — One of a pair of 17-year-old burglars of RD, New Waterford, who stole cash Sunday morning from an East Palestine theater, was sentenced to the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield until he is 21 by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin Monday afternoon.

The other youth was placed on probation.

The two were apprehended by police after they took $29 from the Grand Theater and tried to break into another theater.

Patrolmen Herbert Hull arrested the pair at 1 a. m. outside the East Palestine Theater after a projector operator phoned him that someone was at the back door.

Personal Property Tax Collections Fall Short

LISBON — Personal property tax collections, with today the last day for payment, have fallen short by more than $120,000, according to a report today from County Treasurer Vincent Judge. The total at the close of business Monday was $603,419.

Statements totaling $724,685 in general and classified personal property taxes were mailed Nov. 19.

The general tax is a charge against store and farm inventories and equipment. The classified tax is based on investment. Real estate and personal property taxes are unrelated, Judge said.

Foundation 'Shocked' At Fund Accusations

NEW YORK (P)—Executives of the National Kids' Day Foundation, saying they are "surprised and shocked" by accusations against its fund-raising methods, promise to answer testimony given before a New York legislative committee.

The foundation's executive committee says it has representatives en route here from California to testify voluntarily before the committee tomorrow.

A statement by the foundation committee says the legislative committee's hearings on the activities of charity organizations and professional fundraisers "apparently have become a publicity football."

Columnist and radio commentator Jimmy Fidler, president and organizer of the foundation, said in Hollywood that the motive for the legislative committee inquiry here is undoubtedly good, but he added:

"It seems like they're picking on us for the purpose of publicity."

A committee accountant said at yesterday's hearing that the Kids' Day Foundation raised nearly four million dollars from June 1948 to June 1953 but so far has spent only $302,000 promoting National Kids' Day.

The probers also were told that singer Bing Crosby's name was used without his permission to promote the National Kids' Day collection and that Fidler, apparently serving without pay was one of the main organizers of the drive.

Fidler later told newsmen that the foundation has Crosby's permission—"in his own handwriting"—to use his name in fund solicitation. Fidler said he and other foundation officers are not paid, but that there are paid employees.

East Liverpool Pupils Under Strict Rules

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (P)—The East Liverpool School Board, concerned over the Greenlease kidnapping case in St. Louis, has adopted a strict set of rules over students leaving school during school hours.

The new regulations forbid any student to leave school except on the request of his parents or legal guardian, police or a court officer. In case of divorced parents, principles are authorized to call police if any argument occurs over a child leaving school.

their dependence upon the areas now under Communist control.

One problem is to stimulate more rapid Japanese rearmament. Another is to settle a growing and serious dispute over fishing rights and other issues between Korea and Japan. A third is to settle the status of Okinawa, which Japan wants back, but which American officials say is vital for the long-range aerial defense of the United States.

At the same time a basic blueprint is needed for Korea, if the present truce continues.

3. Southeast Asia — The major problem is a growing French effort to settle a seven years' war with the Communist-led Vietnamese forces through a negotiated truce, a movement spurred by the armistice in Korea. American officials on the spot say a truce now would open all of Indochina to the undisputed political influence of Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh, thereby jeopardizing all of rich Southeast Asia. All the pathways to this vital region are open to direct Chinese military power.

4. South Asia—The United States faces a basic decision in determining how to deal with India's Prime Minister Nehru, prime spokesman for the neutralism prevalent in this area.

Military aid to neighboring Pakistan, now being discussed, means risking Nehru's opposition.

5. Middle East—The major military weakness in this strategic stretch of the world is Iran. Aside from its pressing economic and political problems, this key country is difficult to defend, without a far greater military investment than is now being made.

Autos Damaged In 2 Traffic Mishaps

LISBON — Two collisions, one resulting in an estimated $175 damage, occurred here Monday, but no one was injured, village police report.

Two sedans, one driven by Rollin L. Scott, 57, of RD 1, Lisbon, and the other operated by David A. Andrie, 18, of RD 5, Lisbon, figured in a crash at N. Park Ave. and N. Market St. at 8:45 p.m. Andrie, whose auto damage was placed at $75, failed to halt at a stop sign on Park Ave.

Minor damage resulted when a jeep driven by O. F. Millhorn of RD 4, Lisbon collided with an auto operated by Marvin M. Boyd of Alliance at 11:30 p.m. Millhorn was traveling east on Route 30 when the Alliance car pulled from an alley.

State Auditor Endorsed As Governor Candidate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes today reported his endorsement by the Mahoning County Republican Executive Committee as a candidate for governor in next year's election.

"We feel that you are the man for the position because we know that you will put on a hard campaign and do an efficient job after you are elected," Committee Chairman Chester W. Bailey wrote Rhodes.

The Putnam County Republican committee and three newspapers previously have urged Rhodes to seek the GOP gubernatorial nomination in the May primary.

Rhodes has indicated such a draft would depend on a "grass roots" demand for his candidacy.

The latest newspaper to endorse Rhodes was the Wellston Telegram in Jackson County where Rhodes was born.

Evelyn Bowers, Robert Lodge Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bowers Sr. of Beaver Creek-Greenford Road announce the marriage of their daughter, Evelyn Mae, to Robert Lodge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lodge of Leetonia.

The double ring ceremony was performed Saturday by Rev. S. D. Myers, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church of Washingtonville, in the home of the bride's brother, Elmer Bowers Jr. of the Beaver Creek-Greenford Road.

The fireplace, banked with palms, was the setting for the exchange of vows, and the mantel was beautifully decorated with white roses and white baby mums, and was lighted with white candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gown in an iridescent ice blue taffeta afternoon zebra neckline. Her Juliet cap was styled with a short veil.

She carried a white nurse's Bible which was topped with a white orchid showered with white satin streamers, Stephanotis and baby's breath.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Andrew Freer, wore white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses to complement her pink brocade marquisette afternoon dress. Elmer Bowers Jr., brother of the bride, served as best man.

The mothers of the bride and bridegroom were attired in black and wore corsages of red roses and white mums.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Guests were welcomed from Youngstown, North Lima, Leetonia, Salem, Ellsworth, Lisbon and Hubbard.

The refreshment table, decorated with a centerpiece of red roses, featured a three-tier wedding cake topped with a bride and groom figurine. Mrs. Frank Zimmerman of Youngstown, Mrs. Arthur Bowers of Ellsworth and Mrs. Elmer Bowers Jr. served the refreshments, and a niece of the bride, Miss Patsy Bowers, registered the guests.

The couple are graduates of Leetonia High School. The bride was employed as a nurse's aid at the Central Clinic and Mr. Lodge, who also is a graduate of Salem Trades School, is employed by the Bliss Company.

After a short honeymoon trip, the couple will reside in Leetonia.

Lunch was served by members whose birthdays fall in December and by the social committee, following a gift exchange and group singing of carols.

The next meeting is scheduled for Sunday, Jan. 10 in the club rooms.

Needlecraft

Secret pals were revealed and a gift exchange was held when the Socialite Club met Thursday evening for a Christmas dinner party at Park View Inn in Canfield.

The tables, decorated in the Christmas theme, featured a Santa Claus and a sleigh. Favors were individual arrangements of milkweed, pine and tiny Christmas balls.

A progressive party is planned for the next meeting, Tuesday, Dec. 29, when the group will meet first at the home of Mrs. Leonard Robbins of Goshen Road, and then will call at all the members' homes, stopping last at the home of Mrs. Walter Miller of Maple St. for card games and refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin K. Muntz of the Lisbon Road left Sunday for Chicago to attend the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Mr. Muntz is district field supervisor for Farm Bureau in the Northeast Region.

OFFICERS TO BE INSTALLED—Officers in Job's Daughters will be installed for the second time since the institution of the order in June at the meeting scheduled for Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Masonic Temple.

Standing l. to r. are Marilyn Theiss, junior princess; Sandy Bailey, marshal, and Nancy Riegel, guide. Ruth Ann Greenwood is retiring honored queen.

Lowell Fleischer League President

Lowell Fleischer was re-elected president of the Luther League of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church at the bi-weekly meeting of the league on Sunday.

Other officers elected for 1954 are: Vice president, Shirley Werner; secretary, Marilyn Theiss; and treasurer, Nancy Heidenreich. Jean Yarian and Carol Schaefer were chosen league pianists.

Retiring officers are: Vice president, Robert Kekel; secretary, Shirley Werner; and treasurer, Bill Herman.

The newly elected officers will meet with Rev. John Bauman, church pastor, and their advisors, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Timm, after the first of the year to set up programs for the first quarter of 1954.

Installation of officers will take place during the "Youth Sunday" services sometime in January.

The president appointed an auditing committee to examine the league's books and give a report to the church council.

The committee members are Dorothy Vogelhuber, chairman, Nancy Heidenreich and Marilyn Theiss.

Ellsworth Road Club Has Coverdish Dinner

Mrs. Wade Schaefer and Mr. Kenneth Shallenberg entertained members of the Ellsworth Road Club Thursday at the Schaefer home on the Ellsworth Rd.

Thirty adults and children enjoyed the coverdish dinner. Three guests included Mrs. Joseph Waggoner, Mrs. Lewis Starbuck and Mrs. J. L. Schaefer.

During the business session 1953 officers were elected for another term. They include Mrs. Homer Miskimins, president; Mrs. Adin Riffe, vice president; and Mrs. Wade Schaefer, secretary - treasurer.

Linda Shallenberg sang, "Jingle Bells," and an article, "The Heavens Proclaim," was read by Mrs. Schaefer. The members held a gift exchange. At the next meeting, Thursday Jan. 14, Mrs. Riffe will entertain at her home on the Ellsworth Rd.

Baptist Church Class Holds Evening Fete

Dr. and Mrs. Harley Thayer and Mr. and Mrs. John Lower were guests when members of Don Hammett's class met Friday night for a business meeting and Christmas party in the First Baptist Church.

Prior to the meeting, members boxed candy for a children's Christmas party.

Richard Burcaw presided at the short business meeting when a new class name, "The Young Adult Class," was formally adopted, and it was decided that the meeting date should be the third Friday or Saturday of every second month.

Christmas carols were sung, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bryan and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berg were in charge of games. Red and green prevailed in the refreshment table decorations which included an arrangement of pine cones, Christmas ornaments and red candles in crystal holders. Mrs. Richard Burcaw, Mrs. William Crowe and Mrs. David McWatters served on the lunch committee.

Yellow Ray Meets With Mrs. McGhee

The Wednesday meeting of the Yellow Ray of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service was a dessert luncheon affair in the home of Mrs. Ralph McGhee on Cleveland St.

In opening the meeting all the women joined in singing, "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear" and "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem."

It was decided that the group would remember shut-in members in their Sunshine Christmas projects. Plans also were made to help with a wedding reception on Wednesday, Jan. 6, with Mrs. Floyd Craig, chairman.

Peter Marshall's poem, "Let's Keep Christmas," was read by Mrs. Craig. A variety of uses for Christmas bells was explained in the program presented by Mrs. Rex Reich, who closed with "A Prayer to Santa Claus." All joined in singing, "Jingle Bells" and "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing."

A gift exchange was held. The next meeting, Wednesday, Jan. 13, will be in the home of Mrs. Irving Megrail on E. 3rd St.

Presbyterian Group Hears Guest Speaker

Dr. William L. Wishart of Sharon was guest speaker following a family night coverdish dinner Friday at the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Walter Hofmeister led the group in singing carols.

Basing his talk on missions and missionaries he visited at Presbyterian stations in Japan, the Philippines, Hong-Kong, Bankok, Lebanon, Switzerland, India and Pakistan, the speaker, who was introduced by Lee Vincent, said the only thing that can save the Orient is the Christian gospel.

The Sharon minister, who was given the trip around the world by his congregation in tribute to his many years of service, told of his insight into the lives of the missionaries and of their various methods used to convert people whose homes are in lands where ethical and moral standards are lacking.

In summing up the great need for spreading Christianity, Rev. Wishart said, "Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Ghost," and to emphasize his point, added in the modern language of today, "or else!"

A bazaar and benefit was held following the program.

'Christian Living' School Scheduled

The second annual Green Township "School for Christian Living" will begin Thursday, Jan. 14, and continue Thursday nights for six weeks in Greenford High School.

All interested people are invited to attend. Six classes are scheduled to begin at 7:30 and four others at 8:40. The subjects at the 7:30 hour include "Prayer Clinic"; "Vacation Bible School"; "Introduction to Teaching"; "Home and Church Working Together"; "Youth and Drama" and "How the Bible Came to Be."

The four subjects at 8:40 will deal with "The Prayer Clinic"; "Children of the Bible"; "A Bible Course on the Psalms" and "Music in the Small Church."

Ministers and their wives will be teachers. Credit cards will be issued to those who attend four sessions. Rev. Warren G. Zinn, pastor of the Locust Grove Baptist Church, heads the school planning committee.

Jolly Time Club Has Election Of Officers

Mrs. Tom Howell was elected president and Mrs. Roger Zeigler was elected secretary - treasurer of the Jolly Time Club when the group met for a coverdish dinner Thursday evening at Mrs. Howell's home on the Washingtonville Road.

The table, decorated in the Christmas theme, was centered with a yule log candle holder encircled with greens, and favors were miniature boots filled with candy.

Secret sisters were chosen, and months for each hostess to entertain were assigned.

Mrs. Perry Huffman of Vine St. will entertain the group Thursday, Dec. 17, when a Christmas exchange will be featured.

Colts And Fillies Club Plans Future Events

The Salem Colts and Fillies Club met Saturday, Dec. 5, at the home of Walter Pim on the Egypt Road and helped Carroll Rowe to celebrate his birthday. The honoree was presented a gift.

At the business meeting, a discussion was held on fund raising projects and the possibility of buying club coats.

A special business meeting was scheduled for Dec. 19 to complete plans for a benefit Dec. 21, a Christmas exchange and party Dec. 23, preceded by caroling on horseback, and a New Year's party at the home of Helen Marie Potter of Highland Ave.

Mrs. Loren Pim assisted her son in serving refreshments.

Oyster Supper Held By Berean Class

Members of the Berean Class of the First Friends Church had an oyster supper during their Christmas party Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haviland on W. 4th St.

Christmas decorations were used on the tables where the 24 class members were seated. Mrs. Kenneth Shallenberg and Clifford Aiken led devotions.

Donald Rother, superintendent of the Sunday School, gave a short talk.

During the business meeting conducted by William Schaefer, members decided to plan a class project. Appointed to the committee were Mrs. Raymond Rother, Mrs. Winn and Clifford Aiken.

The class sent a Christmas remembrance to Rev. Maurice Crawford, who is now pastor of a church in Michigan.

Committee arranging the party include Mr. and Mrs. Lroin Pim, Mr. and Mrs. Glendon McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. David Briskin, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Heineman. The next meeting date for the class was set tentatively for Jan. 28.

Mrs. Broomall Fetes Eastern Star Group

Mrs. R. W. Broomall, worthy matron of the Salem Chapter Order of the Eastern Star, entertained her officers and committees at a Christmas dinner party Thursday night in the Masonic Temple.

Carols sung by the group were led by Mrs. Bryce Kendall, and an exchange of gifts was enjoyed.

The hostess was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnston and the officers and pages who served in 1953.

First National Bank Group Has Annual Party

First National Bank officers and employees, with their wives, husbands and guests, enjoyed their annual Christmas dinner party at the Salem Golf Club Saturday night.

The centerpiece for the U-shaped dinner table featured an arrangement of reindeer and a plastic foam sled filled with white mums, red carnations, holly and silver bells. Red tapers in star-shaped crystal holders added to the festive decorations.

Following the dinner, a gift exchange was enjoyed, with Arthur Stark acting as Santa Claus. Dancing concluded the evening's entertainment.

The committee in charge of arrangements was comprised of Miss Eve Butera, Mrs. Charles McGuire and Mrs. Robert Lora.

Miss June Fitzpatrick To Wed Richard Rogers

Mrs. Carrie Fitzpatrick of 361 N. Lincoln Ave. announces the engagement of her daughter, June, to Richard Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Rogers of Winona.

The couple has planned a June wedding.

Chester Ping New President Of Christian Church Class

Chester Ping succeeds Donald DeJane as president of the Co-Wed Class of the First Christian Church according to the result of the election at the Sunday night dinner meeting in the church. Other 1954 officers include:

Richard Ingledue, vice president; Mrs. Donald Way, secretary, and Mrs. Donald Palmer, treasurer. Board members for the year will be Virgil Neiderhiser and Mr. DeJane.

Mr. Neiderhiser, Mrs. Ping and Mrs. Alfred August comprised the nominating committee. Mr. DeJane presided when plans were made for members of the Co-Wed Class to assist the Gold Star Class with the refreshments at the church sponsored Christmas party Sunday evening in the church.

The class committee for the coming party is comprised of Mrs. Donald Way, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Neiderhiser, Mrs. DeJane, Mrs. August, Mrs. Ping, Mrs. Gerald Koch and Mrs. Robert Hodge.

Mrs. Edith Purviance, class teacher, with the help of Mrs. Way, Mrs. Ping and Mrs. Koch, arranged the dinner table for 26 members and three guests in a red, green and silver motif. A miniature log holder held red tapers.

The class remembered Mrs. Purviance with a gift. All the children present were given Santa Claus favors and the couples participated in a "grabbag" feature. Colorfully wrapped gifts which were brought by the class members for use in the church nursery, amused the children during the evening.

Mr. Neiderhiser and Mr. Ingledue arranged the program during which Mrs. Edward Schmidt played piano accompaniment for carol singing. Mrs. Ingledue, Mrs. Donald Palmer and Mrs. Donald Heim were on the dinner committee.

The entertainment committee for the meeting, Sunday, Jan. 10, will be Donald DeJane and Donald Way.

Patriarch's Militant Auxiliary Has Election

Mrs. Janet Reinher of Columbia was elected president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Patriarch's Militant at the Christmas dinner party Friday night enjoyed by 30 members and guests in I.O.O.F. Hall.

Mrs. Irvin Overholt of Salem was named vice president and Mrs. Ola Shriver of Salem, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Bernice Rock of East Palestine, retiring president, presented the auxiliary with two emblematic banners which will be used in the work of the order. Mrs. Rock also gave each member a gift, and in turn was presented a gift from the entire lodge.

As chairman of the social committee for the year, Mrs. Lawrence Strawn was remembered with a gift presented by Mrs. Grace Kean, and Mrs. Shriver, who has been secretary for 30 years, also was given a gift by Mrs. Kean.

As retiring officer, Mrs. Rock received a gift from Mrs. Kean. Plans for installation of officers were made for Friday, Jan. 8.

Home Rebekah Group To Hold Installation

Favors at the annual Christmas party for members of the Past Noble Grand Association of Home Rebekah Lodge Thursday evening in I.O.O.F. Hall were crocheted lapel ornaments made by Mrs. Howard Groner and presented the association by her mother, Mrs. A. H. Schropp.

Fourteen members and three guests were seated for the dinner at tables made attractive in the Christmas decorative theme. Miss Donna Stouffer entertained with pantomime selections and Mrs. Irvin Overholt played several piano numbers. The 1954 president Mrs. Nelson Baunach, read a Christmas story to conclude the program.

Mrs. Carrie Kelly presided when plans were made for installation of officers at the next meeting, Thursday, Jan. 14. Mrs. Schropp invited the group to her home on W. 7th St. to view the "village" she and her husband have displayed beneath their Christmas tree.

Birthday Party Fetes Dennise Ann Detell

In arranging the celebration for the 11th birthday of their daughter, Dennise Ann Detell, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Detell, invited 12 of her schoolmates in the sixth grade at Fourth Street School to a party Saturday evening at their home on E. 6th St.

The youngsters, who were served refreshments at a buffet table, each received a favor. The Christmas cloth, in red, white and green, was centered with an arrangement of red roses between lighted white tapers.

Mrs. Detell made the decorated cake served the guests. Assisting with the party was Mrs. Nick Zamarelli, an aunt of Dennise Ann. Numerous games were played and each of the children won prizes. Judy Miller played the piano as carols were sung. The honoree received many gifts.

Personals

Dinner, Gift Exchange Are Held By Orange Ray

Christmas appointments decorated the tables for the quarterly birthday dinner and Christmas gift exchange at the Thursday meeting of the Orange Ray of the Womens Society of Christian Service at the First Methodist Church.

A short business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. E. S. Huffman, after which Mrs. Ernest Walton read, "Let's Keep Christmas," a sermon by Peter Marshall.

The party was arranged by a committee comprised of Mrs. Louis Schilling, Mrs. Roy West and Mrs. Huffman.

Another meeting is planned for Thursday, Jan. 14, in the church.

New Garden Family Holds Annual Dinner

A miniature sleigh and a silver tree formed the centerpiece when the Loudon family of New Garden held its annual Christmas dinner at the American Legion Home in Hanover Sunday.

Visiting and games were diversions of the day.

Fifty-seven persons were in attendance from Akron, Medina, Macedonia, Minerva, New Garden, Adair, Hanoverton, Winona, Warren, East Palestine and Canton.

Hickory Homemakers Entertain Families

Hickory Homemakers entertained their families at a Christmas party Friday at Goshen Grange, and a gift exchange was enjoyed.

Traveling bingo prizes were awarded to Mrs. Vernon Weingart, Mrs. James Bradley, Mrs. Basil Hutton and Miss Patty Weingart. In the game of "50," prizes were won by Mrs. Roy Hively, Miss Carol Beck, Fred Wisler and Vernon Weingart.

White angels were favors at the refreshment table which was gaily decorated in the holiday theme.

Members will meet Jan. 28 at the home of Mrs. Roy Capel on the Calla Road.

Ministers Set Prayer Week

Rev. W. W. Ralph Is Guest Speaker

COLUMBIANA — Observance of the week of prayer has been arranged by the Columbiana Ministerial Association, which has scheduled services for 7:30 p.m. five days, Jan. 3 through Jan. 7, in Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church. Rev. W. W. Ralph, Dennison, O., evangelist, will be guest speaker.

Sunday will be community night; Monday, men's night, especially for men's organizations; Tuesday, women's night; Wednesday, family night; Thursday, consecration night, especially for church officers and organizations.

The Booster Club will have its special meeting in Pavilion 4, Firestone Park at 7:30 p.m. Thursday instead of Friday evening because of the Clippers' game at Salem, Friday evening.

THE CHOIR of the Methodist church will present a candle-light service of Christmas music at 4 p.m. next Sunday under direction of Mrs. Robert Maurer.

In co-operation with James Barrow, owner of low-lying land a short distance south of Route 14 by-pass and east of Route 164, the town is improving the appearance of the triangle formed by the by-pass and Route 164 and 46.

A line of 24-inch tile has been laid from the eastern edge of the Barrow property following a westerly course of some 400 feet across Route 164, across land owned by the town in the triangle, and across Route 46 to an outlet in the ravine west of 46. The triangle is being leveled by the street department to present a more sightly appearance.

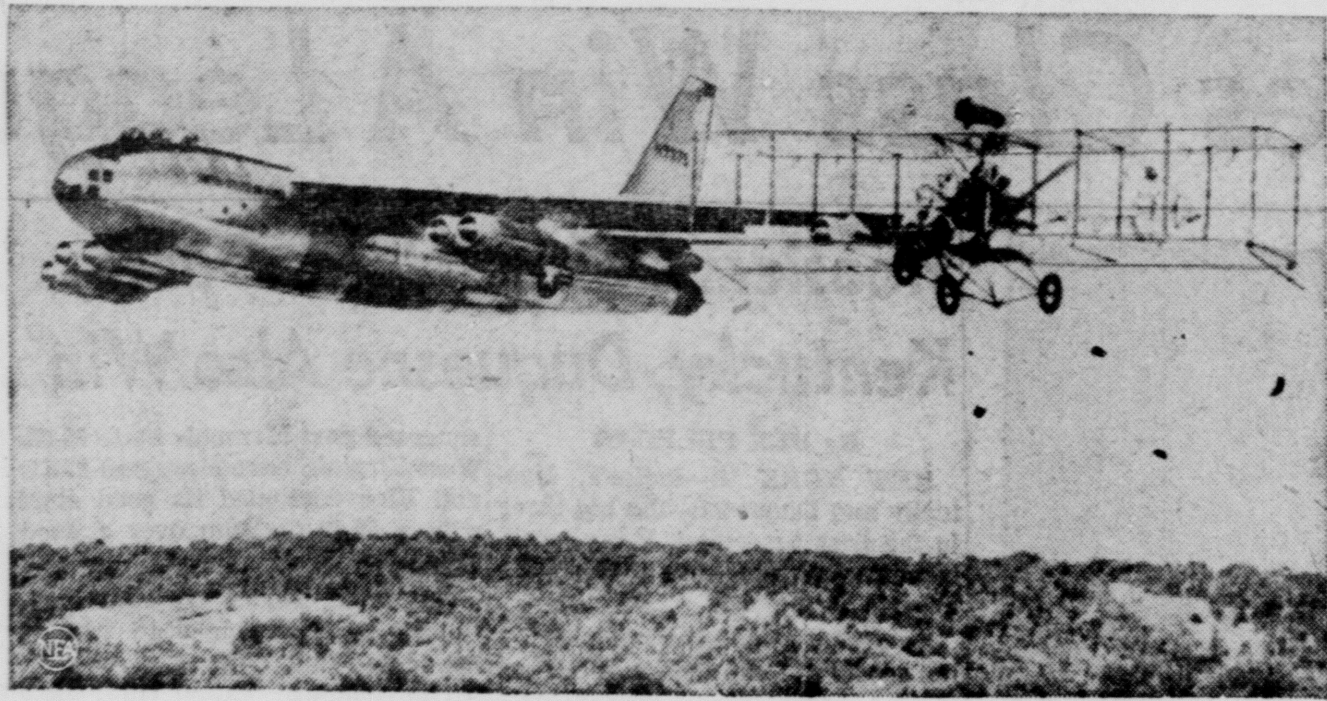

Cub Pack 17 Boy Scouts, will have inspection by a scout official at its December meeting in the Presbyterian church at 7 p.m. tomorrow, two weeks early because of the holiday season. Cubs have made gifts which they will present to their parents, and there will be an offering of white gifts of groceries for shut-ins and needy persons. Lunch will be served for cubs and families. The next pack meeting will be Wednesday evening, Jan. 27.

FIRESTONE AMERICAN Legion Post will give a Christmas party for children of members at the Legion home next Monday evening, Dec. 21, when Santa Claus will distribute candy and toys for the guests. A motion picture will be shown.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Firestone Post will have a covered dinner and gift exchange at the home at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow, when members are to take canned goods for distribution locally and gifts for the girls' home at Delaware.

The Friendship class of the Methodist church will have its Christmas party and 50-cent gift exchange at the home of Mrs. Curtis Bierley of Firestone Ave., at 8 p.m. Thursday. Members are to take cookies and candy to be packed in Christmas baskets for the home department. Mrs. M. V. Redpath will conduct devotions. Miss Leila Beard, Mrs. Charles Reinher, Mrs. J. R. Stephens and Mrs. Bierley are the committee.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT was called at 3:50 p.m. Sunday and again at 6:45 p.m. by fires that had started in rank growths of dead vegetation in fields west of

The B-47, in contrast, has a range of more than 3000 miles and can operate at altitudes above 40,000 feet.

S. Main St. and south of the Y. & S. Railway.

An audience that filled the High School auditorium was present Sunday afternoon for the vocal and instrumental musical program of the junior and senior departments of Columbiana High School.

Columbiana stores will remain open tomorrow afternoon as part of the Christmas shopping schedule.

The Philo class of the Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. Roy Leonard, 38 Woodland Ave., at 8 p.m. Thursday. There will be a white elephant gift exchange.

Christ Mission truck will continue collections in Columbiana this week, concluding Saturday. There is no telephone service, as the truck is making a complete house-to-house canvass. Persons who may expect to be away from home may leave their parcels outside, marked for the mission.

Youth, 17, To Be Tried As Adult For Kidnaping

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Charles Walter Barker, 17, will be tried as an adult on charges he participated in the kidnap-rape of a Toledo girl.

In view of the youth's long police record, Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. approved charging him as an adult. As a juvenile, he could have been imprisoned only until he reached 21.

Police say Barker, Oscar Stapleton, 25, and Early W. Druillard, 21, admitted kidnaping an 18-year-old girl in Bay View Park and driving her to Michigan where they raped her.

Gerald P. Openlander, assistant U. S. attorney, said he would ask the death penalty for all three, under the Lindbergh kidnaping act. They can be tried under the federal law because they crossed a state line.

Cleveland Doctor Fined, Jailed On Perjury Count

CLEVELAND (AP)—A skin specialist, convicted of giving false alibi testimony in the trial of a bank robber, was fined $50 yesterday and sentenced to 18 months in prison.

A Common Pleas Court jury had convicted Dr. Alexander V. Spaeth, 52, of perjury in the trial of Joseph Sanzo. Sanzo and Julius Petro, both of Cleveland, were convicted of stealing $71,000 in bank funds in Warren on Aug. 14, 1952.

The physician presented a medical treatment card to support his testimony that Sanzo was treated in his office on the day of the robbery. The prosecution contended the original date on the card had been erased and Aug. 14 substituted.

Population of the United States is increasing at a rate of about 2,500,000 persons a year.

2 Boys, Girls Win Top 4-H State Awards

Attractive 19-jewel watches have been awarded club members in Ohio for exceptional achievements in the 1953 National 4-H Beautification of home grounds, frozen foods, meat animal and soil and water conservation programs.

The state award for all-around accomplishment, in the 4-H meat animal program in 1953 went to Richard Kolb, 17, of Oxford.

Learning the best methods of feeding and management, he won recognition in feeding and breeding beef animals. Each year since 1945 he has carried a beef project and has built up an exceptional herd.

He won grand champion and reserve champion in beef breeding for two years. He is a junior leader. Kolb is a member of Rely Livestock club and Rely Electric club.

Richard is the son of Harry Kolb, who farms 540 acres.

FOR GREATLY improving her family's homestead surroundings, Janice Wagner, 18, of Median has been named state winner in the 1953 4-H beautification of home grounds program.

Since landscaping her home grounds would take several years, Janice carefully laid out a plan for balanced planting, with provisions for lattices, fences and bird baths. She planted corner flower gardens, rock gardens and set out shrubs. She made the side of a barn attractive by planting shrubs and painting an old wagon wheel white, adding a quaint touch.

Richard Kolb Janice Wagner Alice Sharples Ronald Cruea

ALICE SHARPLES 18, of Warsaw, was singled out for state honors in the 4-H frozen foods program for club boys and girls.

In qualifying for state honors, she learned skills in preparing and packaging foods, how to use freezing equipment economically and the types of food best adapted to freezing. Through her frozen foods project, she brought about a considerable saving in food costs by utilizing foodstuffs raised at home. Among the foods she has frozen are beef, waffles, doughnuts, corn on the cob, and raspberries. During eight years of club work, Alice has served as leader and junior leader. She is a freshman at Ohio State University.

An exceptional soil-saving job by Ronald Cruea, 16, of Cedarville, brought him the distinction of being named state winner in Ohio in the 4-H soil and water conservation program.

In mapping out plans, Ronald had to consider many problems. When the Cruea family bought the farm in 1950, they found the soil deteriorated. They converted the land to grass, wheat and legume crops. Other projects included filling gullies, and planting locust and pine trees. The filled-in areas were terraced and sown with trefoil and wheat. Crop lands were placed on a four-year crop rotation.

Now really see the scenery—and high traffic lights—without bending your head. The permanently fixed transparent section is made of super-tough plexiglas.

1954 Mercury's revolutionary new Sun Valley lets you see through the roof! Yet that green-tinted plexiglas section gives hard-top protection against wind and weather.

No, this isn't one of these someday-maybe "dream cars." The new Mercury Sun Valley is already in quantity production. It's on display right now at our showroom. And it costs much less than you would expect.

You have a wonderful sensation of driving with no top at all—except that you enjoy the wind and weather protection of a standard sedan or hard-top. The soft light that filters through the sea-tinted plexiglas top is cool, restful—like swimming under water. Even the interior trim is specially designed to match the spirit of this new kind of car. Entirely new 161-horsepower engine—The new Sun Valley, like the 7 other stunning, newly styled Mercury models, features a completely new overhead valve V-8. It's the same type of engine that most engineers agree is the smoothest, most efficient in the world. It has more power per pound, more power per cubic-inch displacement, than even Mercury has ever been able to offer before.

Spahn, Roberts Take NL Honors

Erskine Has Highest Winning Percentage

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Warren Spahn and Robin Roberts, the National League's top pitchers last season with 23 victories apiece, finished one-two in the earned run ratings with the Milwaukee southpaw officially winning the title today for the second time.

Spahn, who dropped only seven games, gave up only 62 earned runs in 266 innings for an ERA of 2.10, the lowest figure since Howie Pollet's same mark in 1946. Spahn also had the circuit's best earned run average in 1947, 2.33.

The official pitching averages released today by the league's service bureau also disclosed that Roberts, ace of the Philadelphia Phillies staff, posted a 2.75 average, on 106 earned runs in 347 frames. He lost 16 games.

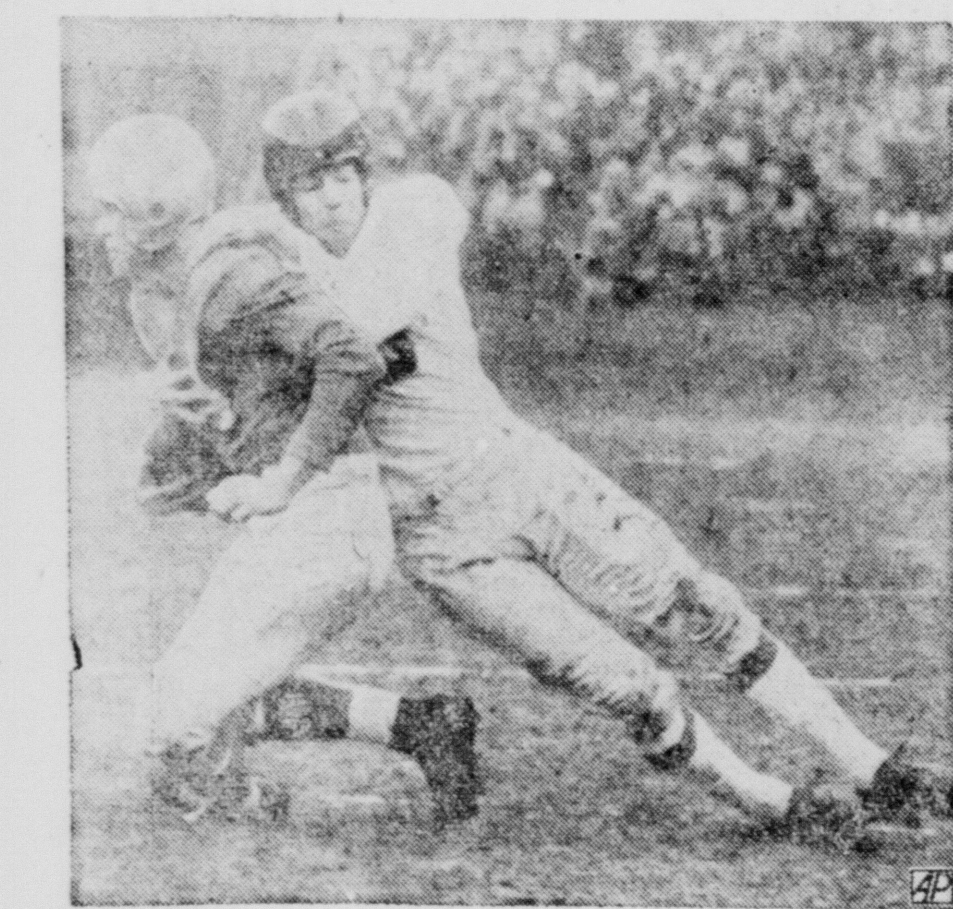

Statistics compiled by the Associated Press and released last October also listed Spahn as the league's earned run leader at 2.10 and Roberts the runner-up with 2.75.

Bob Buhl, Milwaukee's rookie right-hander, finished third with 2.98. He allowed 51 earned runs in 154 innings, while winning 13 and dropping 8.

Lefty Harvey Haddix of the St. Louis Cardinals was fourth with 3.06, followed by Milwaukee's Johnny Antonelli, 3.19, Curt Simmons of Philadelphia, 3.21, and Lew Burdette of the Braves, 3.24.

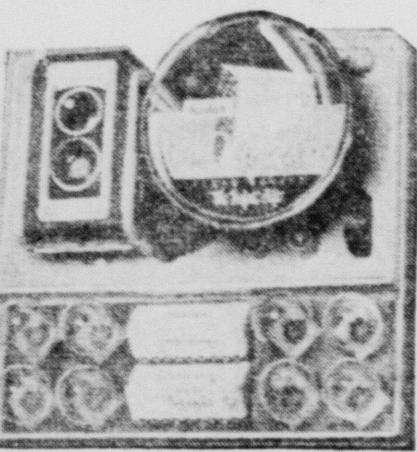

An earned run is one in which a fielding error plays no part. Runs resulting from hit batters, wild pitches and balks are scored as earned.

Carl Erskine had the highest winning percentage among National League hurlers, .769 with 20 victories and 6 setbacks. Johnny Lindel, who played for Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, gave up the most walks, 139, and Chicago's Warren Hacker was the gopher ball leader with 35. Roberts led in strikeouts with 198.

PLENTY OF PULL.—Detroit Lions halfback Bob Hank Grier sinks to ground as his legs fold under the weight of Frank Gifford, New York Giants back, during first period of game at New York. Hoernschmeyer was hauled down from behind after taking a pass from Bobby Layne. Detroit won, 27 to 16, to clinch the western division title of the National Professional Football League. They will meet the Cleveland Browns Dec. 27 for the championship.

2 U. S. Milers Under Probe

Whitfield, Santee Face AAU Charges

NEW YORK (AP)—The brilliant track careers of Mal Whitfield, the world's top half-miler, and Wes Santee, America's fastest mileer, were threatened today by an Amateur Athletic Union investigation.

The probe, growing out of an European tour by an American track team last summer, was disclosed last night by Dan Ferris, AAU secretary, who said it concerned alleged violations of the amateur rules by the pair.

If the charges are proved, Ferris said both runners could be barred for life.

They are not under any form of suspension at the present "because right now the evidence is too thin," Ferris said. He added however, the charges — under investigation for nearly four months — had barred either man from consideration for the Sullivan Award, the AAUs highest honor to an amateur athlete.

Both Whitfield and Santee were omitted when the list of eight athletes eligible for the coveted award was announced last month at the AAU convention in Washington. This was despite the fact Whitfield had been nominated by the Metropolitan New York AAU for the award.

In addition, Whitfield broke two records during the summer and three last winter in the indoor campaign. And Santee's 4:02.4 mile at the Compton, Calif., relays last June was the fastest ever by an American.

Santee said last night after Ferris' disclosure that after their return from Europe both he and Whitfield had "spent quite a bit of time talking those things over with Dan Ferris, and I felt then that he was satisfied."

In Los Angeles Whitfield denied he had injured his amateur standing during the European tour. He said he had never accepted any prizes except those approved by AAU officials. Whitfield said he and Santee both felt Ferris was satisfied with the situation after their long talk with him.

Ferris said the alleged violation of rules by Whitfield took place in Sweden and that he believed charges against Santee developed out of Germany.

"When we race on those tours," Santee said, "they offer prizes that are products for which the locality is famous. The prizes may be steel knives, or suitcases, or glassware, or cameras and so on."

"I am a camera fan, and when we went to Germany I suggested that all my prizes be pooled so that I would get just one—a robot camera. A German AAU official agreed."

"But when the tour was over he said they could not give me the camera, and I let him know that I was very much disappointed and chagrined."

Minnesota Eyes Bud Wilkinson, Munn For Coach's Position

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota fondly eyed a pair of famous old grads to fill its head football coaching job today and hoped against harsh facts the home school lure would be strong enough to bring one of them back. But odds were against either.

Harvey Kuenn 'Rookie Of Year'

A. League Player Rated High As Hitter

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Harvey Kuenn, Detroit Tiger shortstop and onetime "bonus baby" who probably cut his first tooth on a baseball bat, is the American League's Rookie of the Year.

The brilliant but modest youngster, a native Milwaukeean, wasn't so sure he deserved the honor when told last night he had been picked by 23 of the 24 members of the Most Valuable Players Committee of the Baseball Writers Assn.

"I almost thought it was a gag some of the boys were pulling on me . . . But I'll do everything I can to live up to everyone's expectations," he said.

Kuenn, who might consider the award a belated birthday gift—he turned 23 a few days ago—has been pretty good at living up to expectations ever since Harvey Sr. put a tiny bat in his hands when the lad could hardly walk.

Between that day and this there's a long list of sports accomplishments and records shattered in baseball, basketball and football, capped by a sensational debut with Detroit this year.

The Tigers were in last place when they parted with a reported $55,000 bonus to outbid 10 other clubs for the University of Wisconsin baseball star in June 1952. He went up to Davenport of the Three-I League and Detroit brought him up at the end of the 1952 season. His 1953 record includes:

A fielding percentage of .975 based on only 21 errors in 770 chances.

A batting average of .308, sixth in the league among players with 400 or more times at bat.

Being the first player in the league to hit 200 safe's. (His total of 209 was highest for both leagues.)

Setting an American League record for times at bat—679.

Hitting 33 doubles, seven triples and two homers.

Kuenn has been rated higher as a hitter than a fielder, but he was second only to the Browns' Bill Hunter in total chances. Hunter had 821 to Kuenn's 770.

Both Wilkinson and Munn have reached pinnacles at their respective schools. Wilkinson rejected the Minnesota job when Bernie Bierman resigned in 1950 and said "the situation at Oklahoma is the same as it was three years ago." Eight years remain on his 10-year contract.

Munn's main interest right now centers on the Michigan State athletic directorship. He conferred with Michigan State President Dr. John Hannah Friday on his future at MSC but it was understood then Munn had decided to stay with State.

Ralph Young, the current Spartan athletic director, will reach retirement age in 1955.

Those stern realities left these other apparent possibilities for the post which Fesler leaves for the security of private business:

John Roning, a former assistant coach at Minnesota who this year won eight games and lost three at Utah. Roning said he might be interested in the Minnesota job but he added: "I don't know just how I would react to an offer."

Butch Nash, now end coach and a recent applicant for the University of Kansas head coach's position.

Bierman, who elevated Minnesota to football greatness, then resigned after a string of disappointments in the post-war period.

Milt Bruhn, Wisconsin line coach, who was considered for the job three years ago.

Others mentioned include Lyl Clark and Dick Fisher, two of Fesler's assistants.

Ike Armstrong, Minnesota athletic director, said a decision may not be reached until the NCAA meetings in Cincinnati Jan. 6-8.

Hoosiers Defeat Notre Dame; Kentucky, Duquesne Also Win

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—Indiana, Kentucky and Duquesne—the big three in the first Associated Press weekly basketball poll—are making the experts look good.

No sooner were they selected by the sports writers and broadcasters on the basis of the past week's performances than they went out last night and added new victories to their unbeaten records.

The Hoosiers, in one of their toughest tests so far, defeated previously unbeaten Notre Dame 66-55. Big Don Schlundt was held to nine points but Bob Leonard, a flashy guard, took up the scoring slack with 21.

Kentucky bounced Wake Forest 101-69 with a 36-point last quarter. The Atlantic Coast Conference Demons led by as much as six points in the early going but the Wildcats checked them on four field goals in the second half. Lin Puckett and Phil Grawmeyer, a pair of sophomores, sparked the fourth-quarter rally.

Duquesne coasted over Carnegie Tech 65-42 with the starting five playing together only in the first quarter. Dick Ricketts tallied 15 for the Dukes.

In this first weekly poll Indiana was the first choice on 35 of the 76 ballots. Kentucky was tops on 20 and Duquesne on 5. On the usual 10-9-8 etc. scoring system Indiana collected 743 points to 621 for Kentucky and 584 for Duquesne.

Two of the other members of the new top 10 also played and won last night. Fifth-ranked Louisiana State defeated Texas A&M 77-56 with Bob Pettit scoring 27 points.

Oklahoma A&M, No. 7, routed Colorado 70-57 as 6-foot-11 Bob Matlick scored 28 points. The Cowboys hit on 20 of 36 field goal attempts.

Below the first three there was considerable juggling between the preseason poll and this week's first regular season balloting. Illinois moved up from ninth to fourth, Louisiana State from 10th to fifth, Minnesota from 12th to sixth, Oklahoma A&M down from fourth to seventh, North Carolina State down from seventh to eighth, Fordham into ninth from nowhere and Western Kentucky into 10th from 11th.

Kansas and La Salle dropped spectacularly. The Jayhawks, ranked fifth before they had played a game, lost their first two and fell into the also-rans. La Salle, upset by Niagara, slipped from sixth to 20th.

In other action last night Oklahoma broke Wisconsin 69-65 and Alabama upset a two-game losing streak at the expense of Bradley 63-61.

In the South Furman won its first game of the season 103-75 over Virginia Tech with Frank Selvy scoring 43 points and Fred Fraley 34 for Furman. Southern Methodist squeezed past Memphis State 66-63. West Virginia beat Maryland 87-71, and Rice continued its good start with a 56-49 decision over a good Tulane club.

Out West Texas Christian continued its miserable road trip by losing to Utah 72-55.

The leading teams (first-place votes in parenthesis):

1. Indiana (35) 743
2. Kentucky (20) 621
3. Duquesne (5) 584

4. Illinois (3) 528
5. Louisiana State (1) 234
6. Minnesota 173

7. Oklahoma A&M 153
8. North Carolina State 126
9. Fordham (1) 114

10. Western Kentucky (2) 95
The second 10:
11. Oregon State (1) 89
12. Oklahoma City (4) 70
13. Duke 63

14. Holy Cross 62
15. California 60
16. Notre Dame 59
17. UCLA (1) 5

Floyd Patterson Wins 9th Straight

BROOKLYN (AP)—Undefeated Floyd Patterson had his ninth straight victory today and a probable Jan. 25 date with Yvon Durelle, Canadian middleweight and light heavyweight champion.

The Olympic 165-pound champion from Brooklyn scored his most impressive success — and seventh kayo—since turning pro 15 months ago by stopping flabby Dick Wagner in 2:29 of the fifth round of a scheduled eight at Eastern Parkway Arena last night.

The fast-punching, hard-hitting Negro youngster floored his 27-year-old rival three times before Referee George Walsh halted the one-sided fray.

Browns Sell Championship Game Tickets

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's Browns started selling championship game tickets today—but only to holders of season books.

The tickets, at $5 each, will be sold at the Browns' office until Thursday. Any left then will go on public sale Monday.

No mail, telephone or telegraph orders will be accepted, the club said, pointing out it had only a limited number of seats for the game which will be played Dec. 27 against the Lions at Detroit.

The same two clubs met for the National Football League championship last year, but there will be 19 different faces around this time, 10 for the Lions, who topped the Western Division, and nine for the Browns, who headed the Eastern Division.

And looking forward to next season, Coach Paul Brown announced he had signed Bob Langas, an end who played with the Fort Belvoir Army team this year.

Langas, who stands 6-foot-4-inches and weighs 225 pounds, once played for Wayne University.

Quaker Lineup Due For Change Friday

Quaker Coach John Cabas is tentatively planning to juggle his lineup for this weekend's pair of games with Columbiana and Youngstown Woodrow Wilson.

Dick Hunter and Dale Middeker will play in the reserve game this week. Ken Bosu will become a varsity starter.

Cabas hopes to give Hunter and Middeker needed experience and confidence by playing them with the Jayvees.

Johnstown Leader In IHL Ratings

CINCINNATI (P)—On the strength of its two victories and one tie, Johnstown eased into the lead of the International Hockey League by a single point.

Second-place Cincinnati saw action only once last week, a 4-2 setback at the hands of the Marion Barons. The Hawks appear in three of the league's 12 contests this week.

Johnstown plays third-place Marion on the Pennsylvania ice tonight. The Barons have won their last three games. Their victory over Cincinnati on the Mohawk ice—the second club to turn the trick this season—shows they can play well on foreign ice.

The nine-club league is so tightly packed that if Marion wins they jump to a first-place tie.

Grand Rapids moved up to fourth from fifth place. The Rockets won two and lost two in their last appearances.

Troy, Toledo and Fort Wayne are scrambled for fifth with 26 points each, a mere six points or three wins from Johnstown.

The Indiana club after losing three straight two weeks ago, rallied with three straight victories last week.

Louisville went down to seventh with one win, two losses and one tie.

The longtime cellar-dwellers, Milwaukee, played three and lost three.

The league met in Troy and decided on playoff procedure with the top seven teams participating. The confused officials set the playoff date for March 16, although the regular season doesn't end until March 19.

Team	W	L	T
Johnstown	15	7	2
Cincinnati	15	7	1
Marion	15	13	0
Grand Rapids	13	14	1
Troy	13	14	0
Toledo	12	12	2
Fort Wayne	11	13	4
Louisville	12	14	1
Milwaukee	6	18	1

Larry Stoffer and Jerry Myers will again be alternated at one of the pivot slots with Myers still seeing some reserve action.

In Saturday's game with Youngstown South, Cabas was pleased with the comeback the squad made. "It showed the boys have heart when they came from 13 points back to within 2 points of winning the game," Salem trailed by only 2 points twice in the last minute and a half, but never were able to tie the score.

This week in practice, Cabas will not stress any one particular thing. "We'll just go over everything again," he said. However, foul shooting will come in for particular attention as both the reserves and the varsity registered poor marks from the foul stripe Saturday.

THURSDAY NIGHT at 7:30, Cabas will stage his fourth annual basketball open house in which all fans are invited to take a ring side seat to see first-hand how a team prepares for a game.

The Quakers will run through many of their drills, some of which promise to be eye-openers to folks who have never seen them before.

Parents of the players are particularly urged to attend to see what their boy does every day after school for two or three hours.

Looking ahead to this week's games, Columbiana, Friday's foe, will present a big problem—height. It was South's height that played the keynote in that defeat, and the Clippers will feature two giants.

The sparkplugs of the Clippers include 6-5 Homer Gilchrist and 6-4 John Patchen. Under coach Jimmy Hall, Columbiana has won 3 in a row after dropping their opener.

Saturday night, the invader will be Woodrow Wilson which has split even in a pair of outings.

Faculty Manager Fred Cope announced today the reserve games this week will start 5 minutes earlier, at 7:15, to facilitate the main attraction getting underway sooner. This means that the varsity game should now start between 8:30 and 8:45.

These times will be in effect for the rest of the season.

Silver Fox Bagged By Hanoverton Man

J. M. Ridgway of Hanoverton on Saturday shot a 30-pound silver fox, uncommon in Ohio, west of his home. He brought the four feet into the county sheriff's office Monday to claim his $3 reward.

Hunters estimate the pelt is worth $50.

Jim Tatum Named 'Coach Of Year'

NEW YORK (P)—Jim Tatum, football coach at the University of Maryland, was named today as the 1953 Coach of the Year in a nationwide poll of college coaches, conducted by Scripps Howard Newspapers.

Tatum, whose Terrapins were ranked as the top team in the country in the final Associated Press football poll, was an overwhelming selection in the 19th annual voting.

Of the 599 coaches casting ballots, 151 chose Tatum. Only members of the American Football Coaches Assn. are eligible to vote.

Runner-up to Tatum was Henry (Red) Sanders of UCLA with 111 votes. Forest Evashevski of Iowa

International League Meeting Scheduled

NEW YORK (P)—George Trautman, president of the minor leagues, has called a meeting Thursday in Washington to discuss the future of the International League.

He has asked Frank Shaughnessy, president of the Triple A league, and Harry Seibold of Richmond to attend.

Trautman said last night in Columbus he wanted to "find out what all the shouting is about."

He added that there had been a lot of talk about what different teams wanted but neither the International League nor the would-be members seem to know "what's what."

Bobby Maduro, owner of the Havana Cubans baseball franchise, who has been seeking a franchise in the International League said yesterday he understood the league has two other cities from which to draw one team if Richmond (Piedmont League) should not go in. "That would seem to mean Havana is in," he added.

You can trust that we Ford Dealers will give you the fairest deal in town, when you buy an A-1 used car from us. For we hope to sell you another used car or a new car some day. Our good reputation stands behind every used car in our lot (and never have we had a better selection from which to choose).

Find out what your present car is worth

Bring in the car you're now driving for an appraisal. Then look over our large selection of used cars, many of them late model, low mileage cars. Because we must keep these used cars on the move (to make way for the stream of trades we're getting on our new car), we're willing to make rock bottom deals.

REMEMBER it's where you buy that counts!

Make the 5-point check regardless where you buy

1. Is the dealer here to stay? We Ford Dealers are established... we're here today and we'll be here tomorrow!
2. Does the dealer really know cars? We're in service business, too! We "top-shape" used cars dependably.
3. Are his prices fair? We sell used cars as a service to customers who trade them... result: low, low prices!
4. Is the dealer interested in you? We Ford Dealers certainly are... we want your business again some day!
5. Do his cars meet A-1 standards? An A-1 label means that a used car has met the strictest A-1 standards.

BURT C. CAPEL AGENCY

189 South Ellsworth Avenue Salem, Ohio

HERE IS SOMETHING EXTRA NICE!

This standard house of six rooms is a veneered brick with an extra nice basement. Garage in basement but basement is nice and high and there is plenty of room for drying clothes. Hot air furnace with blower. First floor has nice kitchen, extra nice dining room, large living room which makes it nice and cheery. One of the nicest second floor in town with two extra large master bedrooms with master closets you can walk right into. One small bedroom and bath. This house has hardwood floors and hardwood finish.

Not too large a lot so you won't have a lot of work outside to do. Abundance of good shade and we can give you all this for only $12,000.

son get out of hand. But there is no reason why you can't enjoy a fine Christmas at minimum expense if you show a little ingenuity. You may also have to act like a heel, but everybody else will be so full of the milk of human kindness they will overlook it. And think of the money you'll save.

So here is a heel's guide to a cut rate Christmas:

You probably still have last year's Christmas cards. So mail them back to the people who sent them to you, and enclose a note saying:

"I received so much pleasure from looking at your Christmas card in 1953 I am unable to deny you the same joy in 1954. May it make the new year happy for you."

Could anyone object to that? Now, what about presents for your friends? Do something different. Why not get your wife to collect some old vests—every closet has a few—cut holes all over them, and embroider the holes with green and red yarn? Then mail each vest to a friend with this letter:

"May the enclosed Christmas-tree-wrangler keep your sweet little tree snug and cozy on the coldest night. Be careful not to bruise its tender little branches when you button the warmer around it."

Why, people will be talking for days—after getting a present like that—about how thoughtful and sentimental you were to think of a way to keep their Christmas tree from catching pneumonia.

Your wife, of course, can't be overlooked. One way to please her is to pick out a luxurious bathrobe one size smaller than a circus tent, charge it, and bring it home. When she finds it doesn't fit, she will take it back to the store after Christmas. But by then you will be hollering so loud about bills she won't have the heart to exchange it for something else. Meanwhile, you did give it to her, didn't you?

Almost everybody has two aunts he has to send a Christmas gift to. You can cut this item in half by buying a pair of gloves and mailing one glove in a box to each aunt. Don't worry. They won't blame you.

There is also the problem of what to do about all your nieces and nephews. A simple solution is to send each a letter containing a dollar bill, and a note:

"I am sending you this $10 because I think you probably would like to pick out something for yourself, and anyway I know you could use a little money at Christmas."

The kids will look at the buck and murmur sadly:

"Poor old uncle, he is getting so near-sighted lately."

The question of Christmas tips is easily solved. Just tell all the folks who usually hold their palms out at this time of year, "Gee, no Santa Claus for me. I just got my two weeks' notice at the office." They not only won't look for tips. Some might even offer to lend you money. If they do, take it. You can pay them back later, if it doesn't slip your mind, and it will make them feel good to think they have lightened your load.

Christmas Day presents the final hurdle—how to get you and your wife a free meal. Simple.

CARNIVAL

By Tunes

"A cup of anything will do, Mrs. O'Dowd—you're first on my list this morning!"

You just go to a neighbor on Christmas morning, admire his tree, and remark that a strange dog leaped through the window, grabbed up your Christmas turkey, and bounded out again.

"Why don't you and your missus try potluck with us?" your neighbor will ask sympathetically. Don't grab at his offer. See what he's got on the menu first. If it isn't satisfactory, go on to another neighbor with your hard luck tale. There is no need for eating a second-rate meal even on a cut-rate Christmas.

If you follow these rules, you'll find that you've had a fine, mellow, merry Christmas at the lowest possible expense. "After all," you can tell yourself, "it isn't how much you spend that's really important—it's the spirit of the thing."

Inside Labor

Cards Gain Public Favor

Christmas Manners
Reflected By Them

Watch out, Mr. and Mrs. and Miss America — your Christmas-card manners may soon be showing!

According to the American Artists Group people are showing greater interest than ever before in the etiquette governing the selection and sending of those self-revealing expressions of friendship.

Samuel Golden, the group's director, believes this widespread concern for good Christmas card manners is a natural result of the improved social and cultural status the Christmas card has attained since outstanding artists began originating many of the designs.

AT THE TIME the American Artists Group published its first collection, back in 1935, a great many people had abandoned the practice of sending Christmas cards — the cards available had,
for many years, been so lacking in beauty, originality, or true Christmas meaning. Now — thanks in large part to artists like John Taylor Arms, Ludwig Bemelmans, Charles Burchfield, Gladys Rockmore Davis, Adolf Dehn, Lauren Ford, Hobson Pittman, John
Whorf, and many noted colleagues
— the prestige of the Christmas card is high, and its value as a personal reflection is too important to risk an error in any detail of its proper usage.

A good first rule for making a social triumph of your Christmas card is to pick out a design that expresses your own individuality.
By issuing a larger diversity of subjects and keeping the edition of each one comparatively limited, the finer Christmas card publishers today are meeting American individuality half — way and helping to prove a more interesting and colorful "art exhibit" for the holiday mantel shelf.

GOOD ART, good taste, good spirits — and a message that is simple, dignified, and appropriate to send to anyone on your Christmas list, these are essential qualities for a holiday greeting in the best social standing.

The wording may be the ever-popular "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year," or "Season's
Greetings and Best Wishes for a Happy New Year," or "With Every Good Wish for Your Happiness This Holiday Season," or a variation of any of these.

If you have your name imprinted in ink to match the printed message, it is correct to use either the formal "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith" or the informal "Mary and John Smith" (and, incidentally, the man's name may come first if you prefer, although chivalry commends the feminine precedence).

It is not correct to use the "Mr. and Mrs." form if you sign your cards by hand. Nor is it proper to use an engraved signature with a printed greeting or vice versa — printing and engraving don't mix in polite Christmas card society.

EVERYONE SEEMS to agree Christmas be-ongs especially to children so children shouldn't be ignored when the Christmas cards are being sent out. It is coming to be quite the thing for children to send their own Christmas cards to their young friends, teachers, and relatives, and many charming designs in small cards suitable for juvenile use can be found in the holiday greetings published this season.

Many parents make it a practice to include the younger members of the family when signing their cards by hand. One may list the children's names in order of age (eldest first, regardless of sex — or, if preferred, simply sign the card "All the Smiths.")

To bring the children of the "receiving" family into the picture, people with the best Christmas card manners usually add to the card a special little hand-written message, mentioning the children.

LESS WARMLY personal, but also approved is the custom of simply adding the word "an family" to the parents' names when addressing the envelopes. Speaking of addressing, (it's considered courteous to place one's return address on the envelope containing a Christmas card; this helps to keep address books up to the date and makes it possible for a wrongly addressed card to be returned to the sender.)

It's also definitely better form to seal the envelopes and send by first-class mail — thus showing that you place a high value both upon the card you are sending and the friendship which it symbolizes.

AS A FINAL TIP in making a social success of "operation Christmas Card" this season — take extra care that you haven't overlooked anyone who ought to be on your list.

If, in spite of all your care, you do receive a card from somebody you forgot, send one in return only if there's still time for delivery before Christmas. Otherwise, a note of thanks is recommended.

And, remember, you'll be showing your good Christmas card manners off to best advantage if you do your mailing early!

Questions, Answers

Q — How did a cross-country race come to be known as a steeplechase?

A — It is generally believed that it is from the custom of horsemen racing across the country toward a goal marked by some tall object, such as a distant church tower or steeple.

Q — What is the highest decoration that in time of peace the U. S. can confer on a citizen of another country?

A — The Legion of Merit.

Drought Points Up Seriousness Of Ohio's Pollution Problem

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. John D. Porterfield, state health director and chairman of the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board, gave the Ohio Municipal League a good picture of the state's pollution problem. He addressed last Friday's session of the league's second annual conference in Cleveland. His talk outlined the original problem, early efforts to solve it, progress up to now, and a report on how Ohio compares with other states in pollution control. Here follows the first of several articles on the pollution problem, based on Dr. Porterfield's speech.

By BILL TERY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It takes a good drought to point up the seriousness of Ohio's pollution problem. And Ohio had a long drought this year. Many streams dried up, others became mere trickles. Dr. John D. Porterfield, chairman of the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board, says the drought intensified pollution of Ohio waters which "has reached tremendous proportions in recent years." He put it this way:

"Anyone not previously aware of the critical nature of this problem had an opportunity to see the real seriousness of it during the severe drought this fall."

In some areas the stench from streams literally nauseated entire communities. Vapors from some polluted streams discolored the paint on some homes.

"Industrial water supplies were limited by the intensified pollution," said Dr. Porterfield. "Farm water supplies were damaged, made unfit for animals, and in some cases definitely harmful to animals."

Municipal water plants managed to make water safe for drinking, but in some cases it wasn't very palatable, the doctor noted. The plants were pushed to close to their last measure of protection in many communities, he said.

The situation was reminiscent of a similar one 20 years ago. Then there were epidemics of intestinal illness traced directly to pollution of water used by some cities.

The drought-intensified pollution of the 1930s sparked the drive that led to adoption of new water pollution control laws in Ohio and in neighboring states.

"A most important point to remember," Dr. Porterfield says, "is that drought years are a warning of the future."

Experts say the use of water in Ohio is increasing faster than the population, largely due to demands of industry. The amount of pollution likewise increases unless larger amounts of wastes are dumped into streams are adequately treated.

"Obviously, we will be able to have the increased water we will need only by using and re-using the same water again and again and again," the doctor says.

These are the lessons Dr. Porterfield says Ohio must learn:

1. Past experience shows there's a long period between pollution control plans and actual control.
2. This year's drought shows that when the emergency strikes it is too late.
3. Unless we take steps now, Ohio faces a constant emergency in the future. And "the time now is already very late."

Hoot Owl Kills 1,537 Of 4,000 Chickens

EPHRAIM, Utah (AP)—Wally Durfee reported yesterday a hoot owl got into a coop of 4,000 10-week-old New Hampshire chickens. He found the owl still flying back and forth, trying to get out, the next morning.

As he untangled the mass of chickens piled up in a corner he counted 1,537 of them dead. He estimated the loss at $1,350.

ONE WAY TO DO IT!

DETROIT (AP)—When a railroad crossing barrier—waterlogged by rain and snow—on one of the city's main thoroughfares failed to go up, a police precinct dispatched its four biggest officers. They raised the barrier—by sitting on the counterweighted end of the crossbars.

Flying radar stations are among the latest defense measures. Each plane will carry six tons of electronic equipment, including radar antenna housed in an eight-foot structure atop the fuselage. The ship has facilities for a crew of 31.
